ACHS magazine takes 1st place press award

Antioch High School Principal Art Blecke told the board of education at its last regular meeting that the American

Scholastic Press Assn. presented a first place with special merit award to the 1989 issue of "Finesse Magazine." The magazine is a product of the creative writing class at Antioch Community High School. This is the second first place award given to the 1989 issue.

Cathy Cratty, student assistant program director, reported on current activities in the area of drug/alcohol abuse prevention, which includes a survey that will be administered in grades four through 12 for data to establish programs in the communities and schools for the youth.

Cratty reported that the school task force has added community members to have input in the development of the student assistance program at ACHS and also that the communities of Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst have agreed to form a joint task force to form consistent goals for their community programs.

Parent Awareness nights, another part of the program, are evening programs designed to give parents of middle and high school students information about various subjects. The next program will be March 6 at 7 p.m., in the high school commons. The topic is helping a child handle peer pressure and the presenter is Marge Blunier.

Cratty also said that a parent group will be forming at the end of February to work together to provide better programs and support for youth and a new student group has formed. They have chosen the name of "Lifeguard" and will be working to educate, inform, and assist others against substance abuse. Loreen Dresser and David Monke are the teacher advisors.

Cratty announced that on May 4, Antioch will join Wauconda and Grant High School in an Operation Snowball.

She added that ACHS nominations for the new ALPHA program have been received. A selection committee is being formed to make the decision on 25 ALPHA leaders.

As part of the drug/alcohol abuse program beginning Jan. 22, the following support groups will be in progress: Aftercare, Grief, Concerned Persons and Family Problems.

The board heard that two assemblies have been set up for March and April by the comedy group, Wavelength. The first performance in March will be for grades six through eight on self-esteem. The second performance in April will be for high school students about communication.

Other activities on the agenda of the program are:

- substance abuse training for approximately 40 teachers, administrators, support staff and board members have been set up with Parkside Lodge in Mundelein during February and March.

- the prevention play, "The Magic Potion" has five more performances during second semester, including one at an elementary school in Deerfield.

- the athletic policy has been revised and training in substance abuse has been set up for coaches with Parkside Lodge in Mundelein.

- regular meetings with contact teachers/administrators from the feeder schools have been in progress and are proving to be beneficial. ACHS is communicating about the different prevention programs in the schools and discussing ways to improve.

- six high school students are training to be clowns to visit grades kindergarten through third in order to give prevention skits. They are planning to visit as many classrooms as they can in May for "Just Say No Month."

In other business, the board approved continuing the Annual Elementary/Secondary Board of Education/Administration Dinner meeting.

St. Peter's registration and open house, Feb. 4

St. Peter School has chosen the week of Feb. 4 as "Catholic Schools Week." parents are cordially invited to attend an open house at St. Peter School on Sunday, Feb. 4, following the 9:30 a.m. Mass and continuing until 1:30 p.m.

Children's work will be displayed in each homeroom and throughout the school. Everyone is welcome to visit any area of the school.

Registrations for families new to St. Peter School will begin promptly at 10:30 a.m. on Feb. 4.

Families presently enrolled may register immediately after the 9:30 a.m. Mass. Because some grades are close to the numerical limit, it is important that everyone register now.

Every family must register including those (presently) attending St. Peter School. Registration is not official unless the $25 registration fee (non-refundable) is paid.

First graders and new students must present a copy of their baptismal or birth certificate. First graders must be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1990.

Feb. 4 is also Family Communion Sunday. The St. Peter Council of Catholic Women is joining in the open house and Catholic School's Week celebration.

Speed on the ice

Lakeland Area speed enthusiasts add another obstacle by using the ice of Lake Marie as their turf. Motorcycles and all-terrain vehicles race every Sunday, from noon to 4:30 p.m., starting at the beginning of the year and running through the end of February, weather permitting. Races are put on by the Northern Ill. Ice Racing Assn. They run on the lake in front of the Sand Bar, which is on Beach Grove Rd., off of Rte. 59 in Antioch.—Photo by Joe Shuman

Highway commissioners take firm stand

Lake County Twp. highway commissioners are retaliating over what they consider second-class treatment from two county asphalt paving companies.

They have decided to invoke penalty clauses beginning in 1990 for contract work not completed according to contract specifications for the calendar year.

Targets of their complaints are Peter

Baker and Son, Lake Bluff, and Skokie Valley Asphalt Co., Grayslake.

At a meeting of highway commissioners, it was learned that nine townships closed the books on 1989 with incomplete paving projects or work not even started on projects that were required to be completed.

The highway commissioners say they can legally invoke late penalties of $50 to $100 per day.

Grant Twp. Hwy. Comm. Jack Kiesgen explained that the economy dictates when the pavers get to township jobs. "If it's a good building year, we're last. During lean building years, we're fine."

Township contracts run about $18 per yard under present pricing. One highway commissioner said the pavers can get twice that amount for commercial work, especially for shopping centers and office complex parking lots.

The highway commissioners agreed that it would be advisable to get bids from out-of-county pavers, "even Wisconsin, if we have to," one angry commissioner asserted.

League of Women to host March 20 forum

In the interest of presenting the candidates for Lake County Board to the public before the Primary Election on March 20, The League of Women Voters of Lake County and the Lake County Farm Bureau Women's and Legislative Committees are co-sponsoring a Candidates Forum in each of the County Board districts.

The schedule will be as follows: Dist. 1 - Monday, March 5, Elm Place School, Highland Park - 7:30 p.m. Dist. 2 - Thursday, March 1, Waukegan Library - 7 p.m. Dist. 3 - Thursday, March 1, Waukegan Library - 8:30 p.m. Dist. 4 - Wednesday, March 14, Brae Loch Country Club - 7:30 p.m. Dist. 4 - Wednesday, March 14, Brae Loch Country Club - 7:30 p.m. Dist. 5 - Wednesday, March 7, Highland Jr. High - 7:30 p.m. Dist. 6 - Monday, March 12, Wauconda Twp. Building - 7:30 p.m.

The forums will be moderated by the League and will follow the format set by the League. The audience may ask questions of the candidates by submitting the questions in writing at the beginning of the forum to a League screening committee who will then select one question from each of ten topics representing a broad spectrum of county issues.

Even though these two organizations hold different views, this is a cooperative effort to hold a completely non-partisan, non-biased forum for the benefit of the public.

Board of Health elects new officers

The Lake County Board of Health has elected the following officers for fiscal year 1990: President - Terry A. Sellke, D.D.S., M.S., Grayslake; Vice President - Barton K. Adams, M.D., Lake Bluff; and Secretary - Alice T. O'Shea, R.N., C., M.A., Waukegan. In addition, Robert W. Satterfield, Kildeer, was appointed to a three-year term to the Board of Health by the Lake County Board.

This is Dr. Sellke's second term as president. He has a practice in orthodontics in Grayslake and Waukegan, as well as McHenry County, and serves as an associate professor of orthodontics at the Univ. of Ill. at Chicago College of Dentistry. Dr. Sellke is a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthodontists.

A board member since 1984, Dr. Adams is in private practice in psychiatry in Lake Bluff and serves on the staffs of Highland Park Hospital and St. Therese Hospital, Waukegan. He is certified by the American Board of Neurology and Psychiatry, and belongs to the Illinois Psychiatric Society and the American Psychiatric Assn.

O'Shea, who chairs the Board's Interim Study Committee, is community health nurse coordinator of the Community Care Program at the Veterans Administration Medical Center, North Chicago. She is a member of the Illinois Public Health Assn. and the Illinois Assn. of Continuity of Care.

The new board member, Satterfield, is president and chief executive officer of National Loss Control Service Corp., Long Grove. He previously served as a member of the board's Environmental Health Advisory Committee for four years.

Satterfield has a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from Northwestern University, Evanston, and a master's degree in industrial hygiene from Harvard Univ., Mass. He serves as a board member for the Illinois Safety Council and belongs to the American Industrial Hygiene Assn.

We're working hand in hand with some of the world's best cardiologists.

Thanks to the unique association between Victory Memorial Hospital and St. Luke's Medical Center in Milwaukee, one of the world's most sophisticated diagnostic heart care procedures—the cardiac catheterization—is now available close to home.

Quality heart care begins with a careful and complete study of all the subtle workings of the heart. That's why we have added a state-of-the-art cardiac catheterization lab to the Cardiac Care Program at Victory Memorial. The catheterization procedure is performed by a team of cardiologists from St. Luke's—the acknowledged leader in heart care in the region.

In addition to our advanced diagnostic capabilities, the physicians at Victory Memorial are experienced in the treatment of a wide range of heart conditions. And if a patient develops a condition that requires surgery or angioplasty, we are prepared to transfer the patient to St. Luke's.

If ever a heart condition demands immediate attention, the emergency department at Victory Memorial is fully trained and equipped to handle almost any cardiac emergency.

For patients who may require it, our rehabilitation and wellness programs are designed to quickly return them to the quality of life they're accustomed to.

Finally, the people of Lake County have comprehensive heart care close at hand.

If you have any questions about the heart care program that starts with Victory Memorial, ask your doctor. Or, if you don't have a doctor, call us at (708) 360-4101 for a free physician referral or for a brochure describing our program.

Traffic arrests up in 1989, others drop

In 1988, the Antioch Police Dept. issued 1,346 traffic citations. In 1989, 1,142 such arrests were made.

Antioch had no murder arrests in 1988, but there was one murder apprehension in 1989 when an area man murdered his ex-wife.

There were four robberies in the village in 1988 and 16 burglaries this year.

Township group opposes trail cutting properties

According to Roger Secrist, president of the Antioch Twp. Property Owners' Assn., the association is strongly opposed to the Lake County Forest Preserve's proposal to take a pipeline right-of-way through people's property for use as a public trail.

An area daily newspaper quoted a forest preserve staff member as saying that, "since building over the pipeline can not occur, it makes planning sense to use the right-of-way as a trail" for the McDonald's Woods-Rollins Savanna area.

"The Lake County Forest Preserve Acquisition and Planning Committee members and staff have repeatedly demonstrated their insensitivity to the property owners of Lake County. The current owners do not want the public hiking through their property," says Secrist.

The pipeline right-of-way, normally 60 feet in width, does go through people's farms and near or through the property immediately adjacent to their homes. When the pipeline was installed, surface access was rarely required and property boundaries were not critical, as the pipeline is underground.

The proposed trail cuts one farm down the middle of a corn field, continues through the front yard of a person's home, and then crosses a busy four-lane highway. It cuts off road frontage in two different areas for one owner, and runs through the field of another.

Members of the Antioch Twp. Property Owners' Assn. believe this proposal makes no sense at all.

They cite that Vernon Twp. has developed bike paths and jogging trails adjacent to existing roadways that have been quite successful.

"Commonwealth Edison's above ground transmission-line right-of-ways could be a workable alternative," suggests Secrist.

AARP starts 1990

The first meeting of the new year of the Antioch Area Chapter 387 of Retired Persons was conducted by the vice president, Robert Ullrich with Clara Haling, assistant secretary taking the minutes. President Arthur Aerne and Sec. Lori Aerne were on vacation.

Dues are now being collected for 1990 and Blanche Babic reported they already have 97 paid members. Loretta Schiffman, after moving from Antioch, has returned to the vicinity and was welcomed back as a "new" member.

Glen Peterson, tours chairman, has planned a trip to Chinatown and a tour of a newspaper plant. All tickets were sold for the Ice Capades.

Ullrich reported on the present status of the Catastrophic Coverage Act of 1988 which was repealed by Congress. He also indicated that medical bills may be submitted to Medicare by doctors beginning later this year.

At the present many doctors do not do this. Although Medicare recipients received a 4.7 increase in their Social Security in January, the amount was not very noticeable after the increase for Medicare was deducted.

Door prizes were awarded by John Babic and Verna Youlden after which the meeting was adjourned and members enjoyed cards and bingo.

Cable out for 13 hours

Antioch residents who subscribe to U. S. Cable television were out of luck for 13 hours, from 6:45 p.m. Sunday, to 8:45 a.m. on Monday.

The outage was discussed at the Antioch Village Board's committee meeting.

Tim Wells told the board that an equipment failure at the tower in Lake Villa was responsible for the outage.

According to the village's contract with the cable company, customer refunds only come when there is an outage of 24 hours or more.

The board also discussed the fact that since the cable company's rate structure has doubled since it came into Antioch in 1980, maybe upgrading of equipment is in order.

In other business, Trustee Don Amundsen said that the village had to come up with a plan for sewer capacity expansion with all the new subdivisions coming into the area.

Village Atty. Ken Clark read two ordinances annexing the Antioch North and Tiffany Rd. properties, bringing them into the village under single family residential zoning following the recommendation of the village planner.

Property owners wishing M-1 and R-1 special use zoning can then request it from the village planning board.

The annexation ordinances are expected to be passed at the next village board meeting, at 7:30 p.m., on Monday, Feb. 5.

Explain deer litterings

Two weeks ago, the Antioch News-Reporter ran an article on a mutilated deer left in a garbage bag along the roadside.

The next week, we received a phone call from another resident who found a second bag containing a cut-up deer at approximately the same spot on Silver Lake Rd., near Deep Lake Rd.

According to Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller, "This is not so unusual, we have this happen at least four times a year. We call the streets department to dispose of the deer."

Miller added, "This usually occurs when someone hits a deer with his car or finds one that has been hit and is still fresh so he takes the deer home to be skinned-out for the meat and doesn't know what to do with the leftovers."

"These people think what they are doing is illegal and it is, but all they have to do to make it legal is to make a telephone call to the Ill. Dept. of Conservation in Waukegan, to have the deer tagged," Miller added.

Miller added that there is a fine for littering.

Petersen dies at 85

Einar (Swede) Petersen, 85, former Antioch civic leader, died last week at the Rolling Hills Manor Nursing Home in Zion.

Petersen, an Antioch native, was a charter member of the Antioch Fire Dept. and the Antioch Rescue Squad.

He also served on the Antioch Village Board and was a leader at the Sequoit Masonic Lodge and in the Antioch Lions Club.

Petersen's family was involved in a newspaper distributorship.

Bill Brook gives an anecdote on Petersen saying, "When he would leave at 4 a.m. in the morning during the winter to drive to Chicago for the papers, Einar didn't have a defroster on his windshield so he would light a candle and stick it on the dashboard to heat the windshield."

Petersen also worked at the State Bank of Antioch as a custodian for many years.

"He was a hard worker and a very personable man," says Brook.

Seven life members in Lakes Region

New life members of the Lakes Region Historical Society are Mike Passarella, Judy and Dick Witt, Fred and Claudette Skvarce, Wally and Cheryl Henning.

Generous donations to the society have been received from Skach Mfg., Pickard, Inc., Don and Wilma Gibbs.

President Roberta Knirsch reports that memorials have been received in the names of Linda Dalgard and Myrtle Klass, and the final patron for 1989 was Burt Anderson who passed away in December.

"Winter Warm Up" winners are Florida Condo, Walt Shepard - gift certificate; Gayle Risting - silver coin; Clara Haling - wrist-watch; Bill Devore - muffler/tail piece; Pat Wagner - afghan; Wayne Sobczak - screwdriver set; A.J. Little - framed print; Jackie Vos - battery charger; J&R Vending; and concrete sculpture, John Erland.

Knirsch says that the society expresses its thanks to the donors, the buyers of chances, and to Biller Press who printed the chances at cost.

Coming events on the society's calendar include one March 3, the third annual Collectors' Show. If you want to participate in this event, contact Janet Brook (708)395-1166.

On April 14, 15 (tentative), plans are to attend a Very Special Art Show sponsored by the Antioch Women's Club featuring the work of Antioch High School students.

On June 5, the St. Peter's Women's Club will hold its meeting in the museum building. On June 29, 30, there will be a book sale, so start saving those books.

The January meeting will be held at its regular time, 7:30 p.m. on the fourth Thursday, Jan. 25. Dallas Krumm will be the speaker. He is an expert on the Indians of the area and their artifacts.

During January and February, the museum will have on display examples from its needlework collection, antique valentines, winter activities and Indian artifacts.

Graduates

Airman Robert Pecotte has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. He is the son of Thomas Pecotte, Calif. and Kathy Davis, Antioch and a 1988 graduate of Antioch High School.

Wedding

Bury-Baker

Graham G. Bury and Tammy L. Baker both of Antioch exchanged their wedding vows on Dec. 16, 1989. Father Hanley of St. Peter's Church in Antioch officiated the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Patrick and Dellarae Baker of Union Hill, Ill. She is a graduate of Western Ill. University earning a bachelor of science degree in juvenile law.

The groom is the son of George Bury of Lake Villa. He attended Northern Ill. University and is employed at Victory Lakes Hospital as a nursing assistant.

Nancy Multman was the matron of honor. Patrick Hofkamp served at the best man, with Mike Hofkamp as the usher.

A reception for the newlywed couple was held at the Antioch County Club before departing for a honeymoon in Wisconsin.

The couple have made their home in Antioch.

Lizard appreciates beauty of Chain O' Lakes area

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

Sunday morning, my husband called me to the kitchen window and told me to look out across the channel near the slough area that separates our channel from the main channel leading from Lake Marie to Grass Lake. As I glanced out the window, I realized (once again) the beauty of living here on the Chain of Lakes. About 12 deer were prancing north on the ice in a single-file procession, almost as if they were playing follow the leader. They were heading in the direction of the lake itself, and I secretly wondered where they would end up once on the lake. Were they out for a Sunday morning stroll, to return later to their home in the woods, or were they out looking for a new habitat?

I only wish I had time to rush out and capture this beautiful moment in nature with my new video camera. Unfortunately, they were moving too fast for me to arrive on the scene in time. The moment may not have been captured on film, but it will forever be in my mind as one of the reasons why I prefer country living over city living.

Snowmobile Conover

Grace and Rich Tierney read my column about snowmobiling in Eagle River and asked for equal coverage concerning snowmobiling in Conover, Wisc. Conover is located about 12 miles north of Eagle River, straight up Rte. 45. By trail, Conover is about 18 miles away. This town is in a snow belt and often has a greater amount of snow than Eagle River. From Conover, you can easily snowmobile into Lake O' Lakes and into Michigan. You can also sled on over to Sayner, Boulder Junction, Presque Isle, Eagle River, St. Germain, etc.

Conover is located on the same connected trail system as Eagle River and the other neighboring towns. Each town is responsible for maintaining their own trails. The enormous grooming machines are manned by members of the various snowmobile clubs.

It is nothing to put on 100 miles in a day of snowmobiling in northern Wisconsin, and this is easily done going at a safe speed and stopping at local pit stops to warm up. Snowmobiling in this area is definitely a family sport, appealing to both old and young. Once again, if you like to snowmobile, try planning a trip to this winter wonderland.

'It's a small world'

Would you believe that news of my writing this "Hometown" column reaches as far as Elk Grove Village and Arlington Heights? I knew it was read in Georgia because of the Bennetts. I also knew it was read in Florida because of the Christopoluses, and I knew it was read in Las Vegas because of friends of the McClements. However, when I heard I was "famous" in Arlington Heights, I was flabbergasted.

My husband's brother, Bob Schmehl, approached him at work with a copy of my column in hand. He exclaimed, "I didn't know Liz was a newspaper columnist!"

Bob, I, too, didn't know I was a columnist. In my eyes, I am just a person who took advantage of a situation to try something new and it paid off with a lot of personal enjoyment. In my mind, a "columnist" is a person with talent and training. I am just a person with a lot of nerve to ramble on in print. Since you read the paper, remember to call me with a tidbit or two from your area.

Iceless hockey

On Saturdays and Sunday, we find ourselves in the stands cheering on our son, Jim's, iceless hockey team. This year, Jim is on the flyers. The coaches for the Flyers are Art Campbell, Matt Tabar and Dan Philips (our son-in-law).

To say these iceless hockey players have "come a long way, baby" is an understatement. When Jim first started in first grade, I couldn't help but wonder if any of the little tykes would ever hit the puck with the stick. Even when the puck landed right in front of them their reaction to the situation seemed to be played in slow motion.

Our son hung in there, as did a lot of the other boys from first through fifth grades. It was amazing to watch their expertise on the gym floor improve each year. Now the program has been extended to the sixth and seventh graders, and the aggression and team play these kids exhibit out there each week is incredible.

they work on polishing their rough drafts of fiction book reports. They are learning about the correct usage of nouns and will soon be picking out biographies for third-quarter book reports.

It is fast approaching the

Hometown Goodies

The goalie wears a protective helmet with a face mask, huge knee/shin guards and enormous padded gloves. Each player is required to wear safety goggles, and I can see why.

As in the past, all boys are given an opportunity to play. Just as in Viking Football, featherweight division, there are no bench warmers in the program. Just like Viking Football, the volunteer coaches are dedicated and really enjoy working with the players.

I'd like to thank all of the coaches for volunteering their time to this worthwhile program offered by the Lindenhurst Recreation Assn.

Emmons School

The fifth through eighth graders of Emmons School truly enjoy their individual science classes. The fifth graders are learning all about electricity and magnetism and how electricity is generated for use in the home and workplace.

The structure of the earth, rocks and their formation are being studied in the sixth grade. The future weather forecasters of the seventh grade are learning about the composition and characteristics of the atmosphere as they prepare for a study of weather and weather forecasting. The eighth graders are in the process of studying chemical equations and the interaction of elements. They are also learning about energy and its uses.

As the junior high goes from science to English, yearly spelling bee contest, and students are now competing for the individual classroom championships to later represent their class in the whole school competition. Once again, it looks like the teachers at Emmons School know how to keep the youngsters busy and receptive to learning.

I understand that Lauren Cheterbok's recent diet success has made her unrecognizable to her old classmate, Karen Schmehl. Laurie and Karen attended nine years of grade school together and four years of high school. It has been about a year since they last saw each other and Laurie dropped so much weight that Karen did not recognize her in a chance meeting at CLC. Karen said, "Ma, Laurie was always pretty, but now she is gorgeous." Help, Laurie, tell me the secret to your dieting. We are all proud of you. Keep up the good work.

Did you ever notice how endearing the personality traits and little idiosyncrasies of your friends are to you? Sally Hiller has such an effect on me. Some people just have the knack for getting involved in silly situations.

Sally recently told me that her lazy time of day is between 3 and 6 p.m. She finds that she to literally push herself to function during this time on many days.

This past Wednesday, her daughter, Carrie, was playing in a basketball game at ACHS, and even though Sally was really sleepy-eyed, she pushed herself to go.

However, she felt a strong cup of coffee was needed to perk her up. She poured the coffee and took a few sips before putting on her coat. With car keys, glasses and mug in hand she left for the game.

She traveled down Grass Lake Rd. to Rte. 83 and pulled into the ACHS parking lot. As she got out of the car she noticed something on the car's rooftop—her "I love my beautician" mug still filled with coffee. Naturally, the coffee was ice cold and her laughter over the fact the mug survived the whole trip to school on the rooftop woke her up more than the coffee ever would have!

Etc., etc., etc...

Cheryl, Wally and three-year-old Bonnie Henning recently took a two-week vacation to Florida. While on the road, they asked Tricia Olenick to stay on at their Antioch home and babysit the homestead till their return. Before Cheryl left, she told Tricia to make herself 100 percent at home and to eat anything that was on hand.

As Tricia searched the cupboards for something to eat, she found cans of ravioli and noodles shaped like dinosaurs and just could not bring herself to dig into these creatures, so she opted to eat at "ma's" place.

Heck, Tricia recently turned 21 and after waiting so long to attain this adult status she just could not go back to eating dinosaur noodles. I guarantee you, Tricia, when you are the mother of a three-year-old, you will eat ABC noodles, dinosaur noddles, Circle E spaghetti and even animal crackers, and you'll drink out of plastic Donald Duck cups and eat off plastic Mickey Mouse plates, and when the little ones start to age a bit you'll advance to "glass" McDonald mugs. I think Cheryl was giving you on-the-job training and you didn't even realize it. Cheryl, I think you should charge Tricia for this experience. However, even three-year-olds need bathroom tissue. Tricia wants to know where you hide yours?

An extra-special thank you is extended to Pam Cardis (mother-to-be) from everyone who attended the January PTO meeting at Grass Lake School. Pam prepared two giant trays of delicious finger sandwiches for everyone to enjoy following the meeting.

I must admit, I had a hard time walking away from them once I tasted how delicious they were. On the other hand, I noticed Supt. Anthony Przeklasa, satisfied his sweet tooth by munching on some delicious home-baked chocolate chip cookies. Thanks, Pam, for all your hard work. It was truly enjoyed and appreciated. Don't forget to let us know when that baby makes his/her way into the world.

Speaking of having a hard time walking away from food, I've been told by my "spy" at the paper that my distance co-workers are wondering how my diet is doing. To that, I say, "Don't ask!"

Till next week, take care.

Average Super Mom could be in trouble

Editor's note: The following article is the first segment of a four-part series entitled Is Super Mom Still Flying High? The series is based on working mothers in today's society. Follow the series in future issues of Lakeland Newspapers.

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

In the 1970s and 80s, a comet from another planet must have landed someplace in the good old U.S.A.

This time it carried no baby allergic to Kryptonite, but a full grown overenergetic woman, soon to become known as "Super Mom."

This gal, like her famous male counterpart, was to perform impossible deeds.

Yes, she would move faster than a speeding bullet when doing her housework, before and after work, and while delivering her children to, and picking them up from, the sitter or nursery school, early in the morning and after eight hours of work.

Yes, she would be more powerful than a locomotive, strong enough to keep going at top speed, performing the threefold job of employee, wife and mother with an eye on quality, 24 hours per day.

Yes, she would be capable of leaping from tall job to tall job at a single bound, whether it would entail her nine to five employment or her job as the ideal wife and mother, and yet she would at all times, be the height of femininity, the ideal American woman. Tah-dah!

The stereotype Super Mom can be found in society's middle class.

She might have a couple of years of college under her super belt, and she ranges in age from the middle 20s to the middle 30s.

She is married, has 2.3 children, works a nine to five job, five days a week, and she and her husband are working on fixing up their first house.

There are other kinds of Super Moms we will deal with in other parts of this series.

There is the Super Mom who is still a teenager, married or single, who returns to school after her baby is born and is sometimes employed part or full time.

Then we have the Super Mom in her or late 30s or 40s, a college graduate who is married or divorced, has children in junior high and high school and holds down a 50-60 hour per week junior executive's job. This superhuman gal sometimes enters into community service and local politics during the few waking hours she has left.

Finally, we have the Super Mom, divorced, widowed or never married, who is the single head of her family and chief wage earner. Besides the stress of holding down a responsible full-time job, always struggling to get ahead and earn more money, she alone has to worry about her growing children who are left by themselves a lot of their waking hours.

She deals with the parent/child gap and its problems, alone. And she worries about the everyday household chores that pop-up in every family's life.

The working mom didn't just appear out of the blue in the 1970s; it was the defense jobs of WW2 that first put a bulk of married women into the workforce.

Some of these "Rosie the Riveters" found out that they liked dealing with the outside world on a day to day basis more than they wanted to spend their days just cooking and cleaning and taking care of children.

For most though, rising costs, more broken homes and a stronger bent towards materialism and accomplishment, made bringing home that second pay check a must.

When statistics rose to list that seven out of every 10 mothers are working at least part-time and nine out of every 10 married women under 60, without children, have a career of sorts, Super Mom was soaring.

As we enter the 1990s, is she still flying high, the enigma and wonder of the 20th century, or is she stumbling along percentage of children left to supervise themselves grow into strong responsible adults for the exact same reasons, this Super Mom hardly rates a 10 in motherhood.

She seems to rate higher in the employment field, with more and more employers putting women of her background into higher paying jobs, often

Since she's been working, juvenile delinquency and drug and alcohol abuse by minors has climbed to 65-75 percent or six out of every 10 of our children, depending on which study you consult.

the way. Have her wings been clipped?

How's our stereotype Super Mom doing as a wife?

Since she's been working, one out of every two marriages fail. No family counselors entirely blame the rise of the divorce rate on employment.

Yet, they feel the fact that many women are no longer dependent and therefore they are quicker to cut the ties that their Mothers would have held onto, no matter how full of knots, is a strong factor in many divorces.

So this Super Mom doesn't get a 10 as a wife in the long run.

Since she's been working, juvenile delinquency and drug and alcohol abuse by minors have climbed to 65-75 percent or six out of every 10 of our children, depending on which study you consult.

Grade and high school administrators in Lake County tell us that the majority of their "problem" students have single and/or working mothers.

Rising crime statistics nationwide scream that parents are too involved with their own lives, and too many children are left to their own devices, facing unparalleled peer pressure without proper guidance.

This result seems to be the unchecked growing use of drugs and alcohol by minors.

According to "Today's Parents," by Dr. Thomas Eggleton, and many child psychologists, children are taking care of children. The fact that there is often a lack of an adult figure in front of them fosters an inner fear that remains in many grownups (some former latchkey children).

This also sometimes results in adults with no self assurance and no sense of direction, but it can also draw teenage and adult rebellion against parents that made them grow-up too soon.

So, despite the fact that a small because they work cheaper than their male counterparts, most of the time, proving to be just as qualified.

A check with two employment agencies and the U. S. Dept. of Labor shows that, on the whole, employers find her reliable despite her other commitments, which might show that many of these Super Moms' priorities lie with the job, explaining her failures in the other two categories.

But all of our stereotype Super Moms haven't had their wings clipped, at least one fourth of them are still making it work by being able to give their children and their husbands quality time and also do their jobs proud. How do they do it? Is the comet the only possible explanation?

"Mary" works for a bank in Antioch five days a week. She is married and has one pre-school child and one in grade school.

The money she earns is literally for extras as her husband makes $50,000 a year which pays their bills and helps add to their first home.

The baby is taken care of by her mother and the grade school child can walk to grandma's after school, so the children are taken care of by family.

"Mary's" job isn't taken home, so she can concentrate on her household chores before work and when she gets home. She also gets help from her husband.

Is Super Mom still flying high?

They both make sure they spend quality time with the children, or at least as much as they are able in the evenings and on the weekends, even though he does some moonlighting on Saturdays and Sundays.

"Actually, we watch very little television, there isn't enough time. I guess I'm probably not as fussy about things as some, but I do what the time I have allows and don't worry about the rest," says "Mary."

She adds that she's looking forward to the day when she doesn't feel tired.

"Jane" from Round Lake is not operating as smoothly as "Mary."

She has one toddler and a husband who often works late, so is little help around the house.

Her job is often stressful. She works as a salesperson for a phone company. A good percentage of her paycheck goes to the nursery school that she takes her child to.

She spends little daily time with her child because much is used in the commotion of getting the toddler up early and dressed and to the nursery school.

After grocery shopping, picking the child up and getting ready for dinner, it's bedtime, so little motherly contact takes place.

"I feel that my kid will have the personality of the people at the day care center and their values instead of mine. I want to quit working and just take care of my home and child, but my husband insists we need my salary," says "Jane."

She adds that her husband often complains that she is too tired to pay attention to him. Seems to be trouble afoot in this super household!

Next week, "Super Mom Loves Rock and Roll."

Hartigan names priorities

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Education would be the "highest priority" if Neil Hartigan is elected governor of Illinois.

Hartigan brought that message to two stops in Lake County - at Neal Elementary School in North Chicago and at a meeting of the Waukegan-Lake County Chamber of Commerce.

Hartigan, presently state's attorney, said education has suffered "from 14 years of neglect under Gov. James Thompson."

Speaking before a group of mostly Lake County businesspeople at the Gurnee Holiday Inn, Hartigan said principals and superintendents "should be held accountable."

He outlined criteria in which he would support continuation of the temporary income tax increase:

- are there plans to cut the drop-out rate?
- is the use of drugs being reduced?
- is the money being spent in the classrooms?

Hartigan called for a "performance audit" for state government. If it can happen in one office, it can happen in every office," he said.

Responding to a question from the audience, he described his response to merit pay for teachers. Pointing out his sister is a teacher, Hartigan said: "there has to be ways to encourage excellence."

Regarding health care, Hartigan said: "we have to create affordable health care for everyone". He pointed out Illinois "used to be a leader in health care."

"We have been taxed 20 times in the past 14 years, but do we know where this money is being spent? The taxpayers of Illinois deserve to know," Hartigan said.

Hartigan pointed out that Illinois has lost more than 340,000 manufacturing jobs while gaining only 4.7 percent of its jobs between 1980 and 1988 when the national average was up 16 percent.

"The next governor faces a terrific challenge - to make government more accountable to our people and responsive to their needs. I'll start by doing a better job with the money we are spending now - not a knee jerk reaction for another tax increase," Hartigan said.

Eye renovation

VERNON HILLS—Countryside Fire Protection Dist. officials plan to renovate Station No. 2 on Deerpath Dr. in Vernon Hills to allow for a centralized administration office. Fire Chief Lewis Landry said problems still exist when "the right hand does not know what the left hand is doing," because he is not in the same building as the assistant chief. The 10-ft. by 15-ft. office houses the chief officer, fire prevention bureau coordinator, a full-time inspector and a secretary, along with three on-duty firemedics. He will meet with village officials Jan. 30 to discuss the architectural plans for a 6,700-square-foot addition to the station.

Students tell views

GURNEE—Most of the chairs available at Gurnee Grade School were taken. Most of those in attendance were parents, with concerns and questions about at least $350,000 in budget cuts proposed if the Gurnee Dist. 56 referendum fails in March. But at least three speakers who walked up to the microphone were not parents or community leaders looking for answers. They were fourth graders, all wishing to tell their side of the school cuts issues. "We discussed the cuts in class, and the students wanted to come and tell their side," teacher Cindy Onan said. "This will affect our future," John Gust said.

Cemetery protected

WAUCONDA — The Wauconda Twp. Cemetery Advisory Board has recommended to the Wauconda Twp. Board that it go ahead with plans to form a cemetery board of trustees and levy an additional tax on township residents for the maintenance of historic grave sites. The recommendation was given to the board during its committee of the whole meeting last week. The next step in formally approving the idea is for the Twp. Board of Trustees approve the recommendation at its meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 20.

LCAVC open house

Paul Lesniak and Wayne Litchman are busy masking a car in the body shop during the Lake County Area Vocational Center's annual open house, where many of the Center's other programs offered demonstrations of students gaining hands-on experience as well. In addition, four students who have met the criteria to put them in the top 1 percent of all vocational-technical students in the United States were recognized by LCAVC officials during the event. The winning students include Josie Danan of Waukegan East, Ron Kattner of Richmond-Burton, Shelly Quinn of Mundelein and Mike Ingram of Wauconda.

Ordinance repealed

LAKE ZURICH — Lake Zurich's closed door on new developments was opened just a crack Monday night when trustees voted in favor of repealing an ordinance that prohibits all new developments from connecting to the village's sewer system. The action will now allow developers of small parcels of land to continue building projects if it produces less than 1,500 gallons of sewage per day. Under village codes, those projects producing less than 1,500 gallons per day do not require a permit.

Answers charges

THIRD LAKE—A Third Lake resident is firing back at village officials who fined him for violating a tree ordinance. "I feel I have been used as an example," John Wolowic said. At its last meeting, Village of Third Lake sent a strong message to constituents regarding its determination to protect both the quality of the lake environment and its own enforcement authority. The board voted 6-0 to fine a Mariner's Cove property owner, Wolowic, for violating two 1988 ordinances: one prohibits the leaf-burning within 10 feet of the high-water line on any lake in the village; the second provides for fines up to $500 for cutting down a tree more than 10 inches in diameter.

Tell hospital plans

GURNEE—Some 100 members of the Gurnee business community heard details of a hospital's plans for a move to Gurnee last week. "It is designed not to look like a hospital," Wimberly Treadwell, director of site development and selection for Charter Medical Corp., told a receptive audience at the Diplomat North. Treadwell said the Macon, Ga. based firm was founded 20 years ago and has 103 hospitals nationwide. She said the hospitals are near schools and residential neighborhoods.

Hospital plans cut

LIBERTYVILLE—Condell Memorial Hospital has scrapped plans for a three story, 136-patient nursing home as part of a $7 million expansion scheduled for spring. State standards that limited the size of rooms and dining room plus spending limits that would have eliminated the basement—all against Condell's otherwise high priority for service—led to the decision. Still planned are a 200-seat conference center and day care center for 133 children of hospital employees and up to 40 in a companion elderly day-care center.

Mini mall rejected

MUNDELEIN—By a vote of 4-2 the village board has postponed indefinitely consideration of several variances that would have paved the way for conversion of the long-closed Jewel-Osco complex into a mini-shopping mall. Village trustees believe former Mayor Colin McRae, the developer, is asking for too many favors in return for the chance to attract businesses that will compete against similar downtown businesses.

$100,000 winner

LINDENHURST—Lake County may have two big lottery winners within a week if Dorothy Setzer from Lindenhurst can win the $100,000 jackpot on the Ill. State Lottery's game show, "$100,000 Fortune Hunt." Setzer's name was drawn for this Saturday's show immediately after Hazel Bailey of Waukegan chose the lucky numbers that won her the big prize. Setzer will be traveling to Chicago Thursday night for dinner with the other contestants. Taping will be on Friday for Saturday's 6:30 p.m. show.

Emergency meeting

GRAYSLAKE—The Grayslake Comm. Park Dist. called an emergency meeting for Wednesday night, Jan. 24. The topics for discussion were possible purchase of a used week harvester and other matters before the board.

Eye sewer growth

ANTIOCH — The Antioch Village Board will be looking into the repair of facets of its sewer plant and eyeing possibilities of expansion in light of the many annexations and proposed new subdivision to be served by the utility. At the last regular board meeting, Trustee Don Amundsen reminded the board of the need for action on this situation.

Health center has reopening

Grand opening and reopening of the Oakwood Racquet and Health Club, 351 Oakwood Ave., on the Waukegan-Gurnee border, will be Wednesday, Jan. 31.

There will be a daylong open house at which the public can enjoy free tennis, racquetball, aerobics, volleyball, track, weightlifting and fitness equipment plus food and refreshments. Hours of the membership health and fitness center are 6:15 a.m. 11 p.m.

New at the 15-year-old facility are two championship tennis courts, state-of-the-art aerobics studio, hardwood mirrored fitness center, redwood sauna and Dugout sports lounge.

Many special activities will take place from 5 to 9 p.m. These include a

YWCA receives $

WAUKEGAN—The YWCA of Lake County has been awarded $180,508 for delivery of Child Care Resource and Referral Services for the northeastern area of Illinois from Jan. 1, 1990 through June 30, 1991. The award was made through a collaborative agency effort by the Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Services, the Illinois Dept. of Public Aid and the United Ways of Chicago and Illinois. The ultimate goal of the effort is the development of a comprehensive child care delivery system in Illinois.

Express disapproval

LAKE VILLA—After the Village of Lake Villa's special meeting Thursday where the board voted to annex more than 200 acres of property at the northwest corner of Monaville and Fairfield Rds., many of the 38 residents of Lake Villa Twp. in attendance expressed their dissatisfaction with the way the meeting was handled. Public comments were taken after the roll call for the annexation vote. Village Mayor Joyce Frayer asked of the 44 people present, how many were from the village. Six people raised their hands and upon further questioning from the mayor, only one said she was opposed to the annexation. "That tells you the people in the village are happy with what the board does," Frayer said. Trustee Dave Dykstra told the residents that the Forest Preserve forced the village's hands.

The captive GOP

Judging from early endorsements by Republican organizations for county board positions in the March 20 primary, party support is swinging decidedly in favor of pro-growth, anti-open space candidates.

The GOP leadership, basically taking its marching orders from County Chairman Robert "Bob" Neal, is ignoring the results of the 1988 election when independent Republicans favoring open space, a lessening of the fervor for development and concern for the environment, won a slim majority on the county board whose members also serve in the dual capacity of commissioners of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist.

With the thin majority, the forest preserve district has been conducting an aggressive land acquisition program, engendering the hatred of builders and developers who have been retaliating with a frenzy of politicking and bankrolling candidates sympathetic to their goals. The most prized scalps of the pro-growth element have been Supervisor F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville Twp. and Supervisor Norman Geary of Avon Twp., both of whom decided to vacate their county board seats rather than face the money and power of the anti-open space faction.

Nominal Lake County Republicans may be surprised at this juncture to find their party in the vanguard of espousing a single issue—unbridled growth in a locality where natural forces already are creating pressures outrunning services and resources.

The March 20 Republican primary has turned into a referendum on open space. Where there is competition on the GOP ballot for county board nominations, the candidates basically can be separated by their stand on open space. Clearly, Republican voters will have a clear opportunity to make a choice.

Politically, the Lake County Republican leadership is making a mistake in taking sides on deeply felt philosophic issues like the environment and population density, essentially what kind of lifestyle people want. In a very real sense, the Republican leadership is handing the Democrats an opportunity on a golden platter to make advances in Lake County like they haven't made since the Watergate backlash. If the Republicans have become the party of rampant growth and disregard for the environment, then the Democrats can become the party of planning, moderation and sensitivity toward our natural resources.

If this occurs, paradoxically, GOP Chairman Neal can take "credit" for creating a whole generation of Democratic voters.

Viewpoint

Campus future projected for doomed fort

FORT IDEA—Credit Dr. Daniel LaVista, president of College of Lake County, and his aides for coming up with a sensible plan for the future of Fort Sheridan. CLC officials view the doomed military installation as a logical site for a "multiversity," an educational partnership between CLC and four-year universities, which would bridge the gap between higher education and the business community.

We disagree totally with viewpoints that the nearly 700 acres should not be put on the block by Uncle Sam when military functions are transferred to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. The fort is public property and should stay in the public realm. The president of a health care corporation said the military reservation should be turned over to private interests to maintain "quality control and avoid inter-municipal bickering." Natch. His company. The firm would develop a retirement village and locate its headquarters at Fort Sheridan.

CHANGING VERNON—Officials of Vernon Township quietly will be watching the outcome of the 1990 census which they expect will document a burgeoning Oriental population, especially in Vernon Hills. Two Korean churches are in the vanguard of Asiatic immigrants in Vernon.

ROUGH ROAD—Fay Mahoney of the accounting dept. at Kemper Insurance is ready to wring the neck of someone (anyone) in the Lake County Dept. of Transportation.

Frost boils in Cedar Lake Rd. near Round Lake have made her daily round trip to Long Grove an obstacle course experience. When she spotted road crews cold patching the other morning, Fay decided the last straw had been reached and she complained. No sympathy at the Libertyville LCDT office. Cold patch is no remedy for a new front end alignment in Mahoney's opinion. And warmer weather doesn't help much. Lady with a problem, all right.

COURT MARTIAL—Harry Giovanni, the young airman facing substance abuse charges his mother says are trumped up by the Air Force, expects to face court martial shortly after Feb. 1.

"Things are kind of grim," observed his mother, a media specialist who resides in Johnsburg. "The Air Force is taking a very hard line on Harry's case."

Mrs. Giovanni has a civilian defense attorney representing her son "because the Air Force basically wouldn't provide him with any kind of counsel." The bitter mother said that all the testimony being brought against Harry is from "the scum of the service."

In the military court, Harry could receive almost any kind of punishment ranging from a wrist slap to imprisonment and discharge from the military service he is proud to serve.

Mrs. Giovanni reported that interest she has tried to generate on her son's behalf in political circles has fallen on deaf ears. "Our political representatives just don't want to get involved. They're taking the position that the case is in the hands of the military and that can't get involved."

STAR COMMUTER—Joe Sweeney may be Lake County's star commuter. Sweeney, new director of development at Carmel High School, shuttles back and forth between Cincinnati and his desk in Mundelein. Mrs. Sweeney and their children will leave Ohio as soon as they locate a home. A native of Iowa, Sweeney formerly was director of development at a center for homeless boys serving Cincinnati.

Making waves

Dr. William Dam, the activist Fox Lake physician who served four years as mayor and now is on the school board, may have opened a can of worms with his charge that the Lake Housing Authority has created an "imbalance" with the way it dispenses subsidies for substandard housing, but he sure is making waves.

After obtaining information that about 150 children in the 550 pupil system are at or below what is considered to be the poverty level, Dam swung into action. First he discovered that a glitch in the 1980 census resulted in Fox Lake being misclassified for state aid, with the result that the system has been shortchanged ever since. Then Dam took aim at what he regards as the Housing Authority's "targeting" practice which he says results in Fox Lake getting a disproportionately large amount of rental subsidies.

Dam says he's not against helping poor people, but he feels that there is a correlation between poverty and learning disabilities in children of low income families. The sharp-eyed medical man insists that the situation results in taxpayers getting slapped with what amounts to paying for double subsidies. All he's asking is that the LCHA lay off Fox Lake for awhile.

Fox Lake officials are handling the entire rhubarb gingerly, doing their best to avoid a debate over whether poor kids are dumber than well-to-do kids. No one wants that. What is at the root of the problem is the fact that Fox Lake has allowed itself over the years to accumulate an abundance of sub-standard housing. The current village administration is well aware of this deficiency and has instituted an all-out effort to bring all residential properties up to legal standards through a strict code enforcement program.

There are no boundaries on the Housing Authority's Sect. 8 rental assistance program, but there are geographic guidelines on the rental rehabilitation program to which Dr. Dam has pointed with alarm. One man, not even the redoubtable Dr. Dam, isn't going to overhaul a well entrenched social agency, but he's got a lot of people thinking. That's a victory in itself, he says.

Letters To The Editor

Win-win situation

Editor:

It would appear that the best solution to the river property owned by Meadows 21 would be for them to donate it to the Forest Preserve Dist. They could then take one of the higher estimates and put on taxes as a donation. I believe that the forest preserve will get the property sooner or later, but at what expense to the taxpayers? The trail is for everyone's use.

Anyone who has seen the property would know immediately that it has no buildable value. It would appear that someone is trying to get payment for a silk purse when in reality it is a sow's ear.

Since Meadows 21 makes its living from the people of Lake County why not give a little back to them? I am against buying property just to speculate for the future, but this would be part of the river trail that would go from Canada to Florida. This act of civic duty on the part of Meadows 21 would be a Win Win situation for everyone. What goes around comes around.

Good thinking applauded

Editor:

A long overdue thank you to all parties involved in the acquisition of the Weber Farm property by the Forest Preserve Dist. Many generations will be able to enjoy hours of recreation because of the efforts of these persons.

Regarding the name of this parcel of land, I'd be proud to see the Weber family name used. Their decision to sell so willingly to the Forest Preserve and their reasons, including preserving a place for animals and trees and leaving it available to others, was in my opinion, quite generous.

The second group of people I'd like to thank are those involved in recalculating the impact fees collected from developers for the area schools. By collecting fees which more realistically reflect the costs passed on to the schools by development, we can perhaps hope to keep our already high taxes from going even higher. As these new impact fees are calculated and adopted, I hope other taxing bodies such as the library, fire district, etc. may be able to consider establishing a fee schedule which would offset the increase in operating expenses to their services caused by development.

Special thanks must go out to Robert Warrender and the members of the Citizens Action Party. These people brought the concept of impact fees out to the general public and kept it there in spite of some efforts to make them go away. Their diligence in an adverse climate is to be applauded.

Advice for the mayor

Editor:

On Friday, Jan. 19, a bit of justice took place at the county courthouse. The Lake County Forest Preserve Board overwhelmingly voted 16-4 to designate for acquisition a 427-acre site.

This property includes 63 acres of savannas of oak trees, some of the oldest and largest in the county; 32 acres of scrub forest, an 11-acre pine plantation, 126 acres of "advanced old field," 144 acres of farm fields, 4.5 acres of wetlands and a 6.5-acre pond. This site is teeming with a natural beauty and native plants and wildlife second to none here in Lake County.

As a citizen of unincorporated Lake Villa, I am both appalled and disgusted with some members of my local government, namely Lake Villa Mayor Joyce Frayer. Why did our land-grabbing mayor decide to annex this unincorporated Lake Villa property overnight?

According to attorneys representing the Lake County Forest Preserve, the district can acquire the 427-acre site without village approval because the property is contiguous to the existing Grant Forest Preserve.

Fortunately, my faith in local government has not dwindled with this stained moment of Lake Villa history. With representation by Suzi Schmidt and Lake (Continued on next page)

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Sheriff candidate Donald Mason says he will drop an election bombshell sometime next month.

It will happen at a "tell all" press conference by a soon-to-resign sheriff's deputy.

The idea, of course, is to embarrass the administration of Sheriff Clinton Grinnell and bolster Mason's election bid.

What's the scandal?

For openers, Mason says Grinnell isn't really running the sheriff's department. Rather, he is a grandfatherly figurehead, the would-be sheriff says. The real powers are supposed to be under-sheriff Willie Smith, jail Supt. Larry Lesza and Chief Deputy of Operations Kurt Proshwitz.

Mason also claims appointments and promotions are based on the buddy system rather than merit or ability. He cites Smith's own promotion to under-sheriff while still on a leave of absence as Grinnell's chief deputy.

Another scandal of the department, Mason says, is giving stars to friends and political supporters. Although Grinnell discontinued the practice of his predecessors, none of the "old" stars have been recalled. Mason says they should be recalled so holders won't use them to throw their weight around or as a license to carry a gun.

Mason, who worked in the sheriff's department for 11 years, promises more volleys between now and election day in March.

For those who might be interested, Congressman John Porter (R-Winnetka) of the 10th Dist. will hold his first public forum of 1990. It will be Saturday, Jan. 27, from 10 a.m. to noon at Stevenson High School, 16070 Rte. 22 in Prairie View. Porter will begin the program with a statement on current issues and then open the floor for audience comments, questions or suggestions on any topic related to the federal government. Members of his staff will also be on hand to offer assistance to individuals experiencing difficulties with federal agencies.

What is good for the goose isn't necessarily good for the gander. That appears to be the philosophy of Libertyville Twp. Sup. Ralph Swank Jr.

Last year he settled a $30,000 lawsuit because his predecessor refused to give out the names of general assistance recipients. Dorothy Conners not only got the names when Swank took office, she was reimbursed for her legal troubles. Swank said it was more expedient to resolve the matter rather than run up more attorney fees. Conners and her husband, Pat, are big political supporters of Swank.

Now comes Lorraine Gillies of Diamond Lake Rd. in Mundelein. She was among 134 township aid recipients Swank reduced to two upon taking office. She has been trying since last summer to get the names of the 134. Swank says she can have the names of the two persons currently getting benefits. Gillies won't settle for that. So she is writing letters and trying to win public support for her cause. Gillies says she doesn't have the money or the political clout of the Connerses.

Swank is afraid of opening a can of worms by giving out the list. He doesn't want former recipients comparing notes and pooling their meager resources to hire an attorney. That could prove embarrassing in the Camelot-like world of Swank & Co.

Another loose cannon is Trustee Harold Crane of Lake Zurich. At last week's village board meeting colleagues ganged up on him.

They signed and read a public statement asking Crane to stop making unfounded accusations. He claims a newly-approved Marathon gas station at Rtes. 12 and 22 was pushed through by Mayor James Kay and others on the board as a political payoff.

Trustees Karen Demos-Rosenthal read the statement, saying "I've had enough of your garbage." Trustee Charles Siewert added a footnote: "You are either going to stop this or we'll settle this in court or out in the parking lot."

Crane said he was misquoted by the news media.

conda Twp. Republican Club President Bob Purchniak with the election last week of new officers.

They are Steve Barans, president; Bob Collins, vice president; Dee Amundson, treasurer; Bev Marino, recording secretary; Ginger Dickson, secretary; and Jerry Beyer, sergeant at arms.

"Some members have left the club when things didn't go their way," Barans said of the mainstream Republican Club.

That remark was aimed at the Wauconda Twp. Republican Assn. and Chairman Howard Bieze. He has long claimed an interest in bringing the two factions together, but only if it is done his way. Earlier this month Bieze dropped out of the Dist. 6 County Board race. The former township GOP party chairman said he did so in the interest of party unity. One of his would-be opponents in the race, Ela Twp. Sup. Robert Grever, says Bieze didn't have too much of a following, anyhow.

The new officers will be installed at the club's St. Patrick's Day corned beef and cabbage dinner-dance on Saturday, March 17.

Flash! Two major Republican clubs have made endorsements in the Dist. 4 County Board race. But there are no surprises.

The Grant Twp. Republican Club gave the nod to first-term incumbent Charlotte Kiesgen of Fox Lake and PR-man Charles Johnston of Round Lake Beach. They also got the blessing of the Antioch Twp. Republican Club. Both candidates are pro development.

Not rating much consideration was candidate Larry Leafblad of Highland Lake, a no-nonsense middle of the roader who likes open space as much as the next person.

Two vacancies are on the March ballot: Kiesgen's and retiring County Board Chairman Norman Geary.

Over in Libertyville Twp. the precinct committeemen there endorsed two open spacers for Dist. 5 County Board vacancies. They are incumbent Carol Calabrese and Libertyville Trustee Donald Coulson. Pro-development candidates Robert Depke of Warren Twp. and Vernon Hills Trustee Pam Newton didn't make it.

Villa Twp. Supv. Susan Hanson, my faith in local government has strengthened.

Although this issue is far from over, I would like to make a suggestion to Mayor Joyce Frayer. In the future, I would hope that she make more constructive use of her powers given to her by her constituents.

Paying campaign debts

Editor:

I don't understand why people are surprised that Ralph Swank would pay almost double the fair market value for a portion of the Cuneo property. This purchase alone, along with the so-called "legal fees," he has paid to other campaign contributors is the method that Swank has elected to return outrageous campaign contributions.

It should be apparent to all citizens that these developers did not lay out large sums of money out of the goodness of their hearts. Rather, they had every reason to believe that if they could unseat Mike Graham they could expect a handsome return on their investment. I can also understand Swank's comment to the effect that he will no longer answer opposing comments on this purchase price. What could he possibly say? How could he possibly justify $50,000 per acre for portions which are wetlands?

What does surprise me is how two of the three incumbent town board members could allow this to happen. What small concession has convinced them to sell out and allow this all out raid on the open space funds? Would a small purchase near Bull Creek and a soccer field in Mundelein be enough incentive to sell out other important principles?

Special kudos should go to Donna Elson who was the only town board member with the courage to oppose Swank's rape of the open space funds.

The whole thing is now rather academic. For whatever reason, the old board has now sided with Swank, and you can bet that most of the balance of the open space funds will be used to enrich developers. Who was it that said, "Citizens get the government they deserve?" Whoever it was must have had Libertyville Township in mind.

Dreaming of Schaumburg

Editor:

We all have our dreams. Some of us moved away from crowded cities and suburbs to enjoy a quiet country life. Others, such as the mayor and village board of Gurnee, dream of a new Schaumburg or Buffalo Grove.

Most of us accept that growth is inevitable, but hope to see a balance of types of housing projects with our natural resources being protected. We even hope to see village planners look to communities such as Long Grove as models, and avoid the pitfalls of high density and more high density.

Instead, the Village of Gurnee is going to pack another 600 acres with more high density projects. The Lexington project was approved in December, and past experience indicates that the village board will grant all the variances requested by Zale in the near future. The 2,300 people who asked that Mayor Welton and his village board reconsider the Lexington and Zale projects are being told again that their dreams do not matter.

As for those voters in Gurnee who did not sign the petitions, I wonder if they are award of some of the costs to all of us that these developments will create? Village consultants have identified a possible $200,000-per-year deficit for the high school.

Woodland already spends close to half the state average on each student, and already is approaching a $400,000 deficit this year, so cuts will be minor band-aids with disastrous effects on the quality of education. And the Lexington project is about three times the size of the Zale project, so just imagine what the combined deficits might be. While applauding the effort to get larger impact fees from developers, I must point out that these fees are for building the new school building needed for the new students coming from these subdivisions, and will only cover about half of the building costs.

I wish that those residents of Lake County who dream of living in Buffalo Grove would move there, and let those of us who like the country stay here. What is your dream? Have you told your village board members recently how you feel about our shrinking countryside?

Family business

Nedza Amoco, located at Liberty St. and Rte. 12 in Wauconda, has been a family business for 15 years. The station was founded by Kenneth Nedza, who has since passed away. Lory Nedza, Kenneth's wife, has taken over the business. The station has a long history in the community and is known for its excellent service. Lory Nedza is currently on the phone with a client, discussing a service request.

Nedzas keeping success in the family

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER
Lakeland Newspapers

After 15 years of serving the Wauconda community, it is evident that Nedza Amoco is getting stronger every year and is becoming one of the best service stations of its kind in the Chicagoland Area. The family-run business has already expanded once and the Nedzas are looking for even bigger plans in the future.

Unsure about the specifics of those future plans, the Nedza family is excited about the possibilities. "We've been thinking about our future plans, but we aren't exactly sure which way we want to go. There's a lot of possibilities and that's what makes it exciting. One thing's for sure - we're going to keep it in the family," said Lory Nedza, wife of the service station's owner, Kenneth.

Keeping it in the family seems to be the way to go for the Nedzas. Aside from Kenneth and Lory, his brother Steve and parents Irv and Jayne, are also active in the operation. Lory is the station's bookkeeper, while Steve is Kenneth's assistant, and Irv and Jayne fill in wherever they can.

Lory feels the station has been successful in the past because of its "family" atmosphere.

"When you've been in a town for as long as we have, it makes the job all the more fun because we know a good majority of our customers. I think they like coming to us for their needs because we always give them personalized service," said Lory.

She said the fact that Kenneth and his family grew up in Wauconda makes it easier to offer that personalized service because they "grew up with many of our clientele."

Nedza Amoco has been in Wauconda since 1974, when it first opened at Main St. and Rte. 176. It was there the business started with two service bays and three islands with nine gasoline pumps.

The station moved to its present location at Liberty St. and Rte. 12 in 1986. Presently, the establishment has three service bays and four islands with 24 gas pumps.

Lory said the service station also has recently added an additional mechanic to the staff with 15 years of experience. "This addition will enable us to offer more in terms of service and repairs. We basically have the capability to perform just about any kind of automobile work with the exception of engine rebuilds or body work," she said.

Perhaps the biggest boost the Nedzas have received in quite some time came when they recently received their third consecutive All-Star ranking among Amoco service stations in the Chicago

Dist. by the home office. The rankings are based on cleanliness, image, customer survey and gas volume gain over the previous year.

"It's really a great honor to receive a ranking like that. It tells us that we're doing something right," she said.

The main business philosophy the Nedzas stand behind is treating each customer fairly and honestly, just like "you yourself would like to be treated."

"We feel that is very important because a lot of our business is based on repeat customers. We have to stand behind our work if we want them to come back. Word of mouth is probably the best advertising we can get," said Lory.

Along with the additional service bays and gas pumps, Nedza Amoco also added a small food shop when it expanded four years ago. "The food mart is strictly a convenience to the customer. We don't expect them to do their grocery shopping here, but it's convenient to pick up just a few items."

"We think it's a good supplement to our service station. We're now able to offer a complete package to our customers and give them what they deserve," she added.

Other special highlights of the operation include 24-hour towing, open 24 hours a day for 365 days a year, and the availability of full serve as well as self serve.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Mundelein

Richard A. Snapp has moved his accounting service office to 700 N. Lake St., Ste. 206, Mundelein. The business phone number remains the same at (708)566-9422. Snapp's accounting service provides bookkeeping, accounting, payroll and tax preparation services to businesses and personal tax preparation services to individuals.

Vernon Hills

Lewis Assoc., a sales representative company, will nearly double its corporate headquarters size with a move this spring into The Corporate Woods at 820 Forest Edge Dr., Vernon Hills. Samuel Lewis, a general partner, said the company will occupy 9,500 square feet compared with less than 5,000 in its present Northbrook headquarters. Both he and the company architect, Ernest Grunfeld, III, of Grunfeld and Assoc. Architects, Chicago, said a minimum of trees will be disturbed on the heavily wooded 600,000-square-foot site. The company was founded in 1957 and today employs 20 people. Lewis said additional sales and support personnel will be hired as a result of the move.

North Chicago

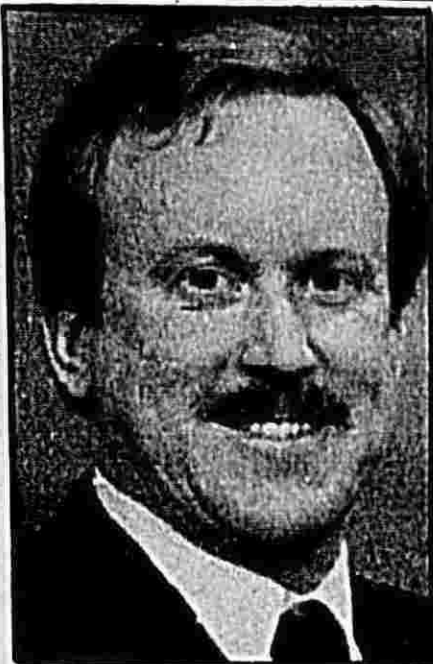

Abbott Laboratories is forming a credit union for employees. The company-sponsored credit union, which is scheduled to begin operation in late 1990, will provide comprehensive financial services at highly competitive rates for employees, retirees and their spouses. It will be called the Abbott Laboratories Employees Credit Union (ALEC). Abbott credit union will replace the four banking facilities at Abbott sites in Lake County that are currently operated by First Midwest Bank. The credit union will provide travel advances, expense reports and other business services for Abbott. In addition, it will offer checking accounts, credit cards, ATM cards and payroll-deduction savings accounts to employees. Other services, including loans to employees, will be added as the credit union grows. It is expected that the credit union will eventually provide services at other domestic locations.

Gurnee

Six Flags Great America will kick off recruitment efforts for more than 3,000 seasonal jobs for the park's 1990 season with area job fairs on Saturday, Jan. 27, and Feb. 24. A variety of positions are available in food service, merchandising, security, rides, shows, games, front gate and clerical areas. Six Flags offers jobs for teens and older adults in a fun and exciting atmosphere. The job fairs are scheduled from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Gurnee Holiday Inn on Jan. 27 and the Kenosha Holiday Inn on Feb. 24. For ease in processing, be prepared to show a social security card and photo identification card. Applicants must be at least 15 years of age (proof is required).

Personnel

Bruce L. Shrake

Bruce L. Shrake of Ingleside has been named a principal of Gewalt-Hamilton Associates, Inc., Northbrook, an engineering consulting firm. He joined the company in 1988 as senior civil engineer. Previously, Shrake was city engineer and head of the engineering department for the City of Des Plaines. Before that, he was vice president with Morris Environmental Engineering, Inc. Shrake has a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering from the Univ. of Rhode Island, and a master of science degree in management from the Lake Forest Graduate School of Management. Who's Eligible for Meal Periods?

This week's question from The Illinois Chamber HELPLINE

Q. Do I have to provide a lunch period right at 12 noon and do I have to provide a meal period for part-timers?

A. The Illinois Six Day Week Law says every employee scheduled to work 7-1/2 consecutive hours or more must be given at least a 20-minute meal period, beginning no later than the end of the fifth hour. It does not specify a specific time, such as noon. If a part-timer, or any employee, works less than 7-1/2 hours no meal time is required. Also, meal periods do not have to be paid time.

If employers would like more information on this and other Chamber Services call, 312-372-7373.

The first part of your life is spent LEARNING to make money. The second part of your life is spent EARNING money. The third part of your life is spent YEARNING for or ENJOYING your money!

Questions and answers on your 1989 taxes

To help taxpayers get a head start on their 1989 tax returns, the Illinois CPA Society has supplies the answers to some of the most commonly asked question on 1989 taxes.

What are the Tax Rates for 1989?

They are the same as last year. The good news is that the brackets have been adjusted for inflation. As a result, you can earn a little more money before moving into a higher tax bracket.

I served on jury duty recently and had to surrender the check to my employer, will I still have to declare the jury duty pay as income?

Yes. But a new tax will enable you to take a deduction for that same amount - even if you don't itemize. As a result, you will no longer be taxed on money you didn't actually keep.

My son received a scholarship for the past school year. Will he have to report the money as taxable income?

The answer depends on how the money is used and whether your son is a degree candidate. Scholarships or fellowships made after Aug. 16, 1986 are tax-free only for degree candidates who use the funds for tuition and course-related expenses. You can no longer exclude from income any money awarded for such expenses as room, board, and travel. Nor can you exclude any funds received in return for teaching or research services - even if they are required for the degree.

I sold some stocks this year. How do I figure out how much capital gain or loss I need to report?

Basically, you calculate the amount of gain or loss by subtracting the amount you paid for the investment from the amount you sold it for. The latter information is provided on the 1099-B form that your broker or mutual fund will send you. If you haven't received your statement by the time you're ready to fill out your return, you're not off the hook - a gain must still be reported. Keep in mind that certain activities, such as participation in a dividend reinvestment program, may make calculating gain a tricky matter. In these cases, your best option may be consulting a CPA.

I'm self-employed and maintain an office at home. Will I be able to deduct my business expenses?

If the space in your home is used regularly and exclusively for business and is separate from your living space, you may be able to deduct a percentage of the costs of running your house, including your utilities and even a home security system. But keep in mind that the home-office deduction may be red flag for IRS audits.

What are the guidelines for deducting IRA contributions?

You can still fully deduct your IRA if neither you nor your spouse participated in an employer's retirement plan in 1989, or if your adjusted gross income is under $25,000, if single, or $40,000, if married. Once you satisfy either of these requirements, you can shelter up to $2,000, if single, and up to $4,000 if married and both spouses work. If only one spouse works, the most you can contribute is $2,250.

What happens if I do participate in a retirement plan and make more money than the limits allow?

If you (or your spouse) are covered by a company-sponsored plan, the amount of your IRA deduction will drop by $200 for every $1,000 of adjusted gross income over the income limits I just mentioned.

Has the deduction for personal interest changed again?

Yes. For 1989, you can only deduct 20 percent of the interest charged on consumer loans and credit cards. This year, the deduction drops to 10 percent. And in 1991, the deduction will disappear entirely.

I recently bought my first home. What deductions are available to homeowners?

First of all, if you paid points to obtain a mortgage, you may be entitled to deduct these in full this year. Also, you can deduct any other mortgage interest you pay (within limits), as well as your real estate and property taxes.

Do I have to pay taxes on the gain from selling my home?

That depends. Generally, you can defer the gain from selling your primary residence by buying another home of equal or greater value sometime within 24 months of the date of the sale. Alternately, if you are at least age 55 or older and meet certain qualifications, you may be able to exclude from taxable income up to $125,000 in gain by claiming a special provision of the tax law. Ask your CPA for details. In either case, you will still have to report the sale of your home on Form 2119.

Have the rules of miscellaneous and medical deductions changed?

No. The rules in 1989 are exactly the same as those in effect in 1988. Miscellaneous expenses are deductible only to the extent that they exceed two percent of your adjusted gross income. Medical expenses are deductible only to the extent that they exceed 7.5 percent of your adjusted gross income.

For further information on 1989 tax rules, you can request a copy of "The CPA's Survival Guide for Taxpayers" from the Illinois CPA Society by calling (312)993-0393 or (800)572-9850 or by writing to Renee Diver, manager, public relations, Illinois CPA Society, 222 S. Riverside Plaza, Chicago, IL 60606.

Move over Chicken, make room for Skipper

With a bow to San Diego's Chicken Man and a salute to Herky the Hawk-eye of the University of Iowa and Pete the Boilermaker of Purdue University, make room for one more mascot.

He's Skipper the Fox, a chipper animated symbol of the Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce and Industry, with over-sized ears and an arresting yellow body. Skipper made his debut last summer and is now a fixture at grand openings, parades and other chamber events.

Rick Doyle, the 18-year-old Round Lake High student who makes Skipper come alive, said his job is "mostly to wave and get close to children. I feel my job is mostly to entertain the children." The husky senior hopes to study automobile mechanics after graduation and, eventually, own his own auto service center.

Doyle acquired the job of being Skipper from his mother, who was chairman of the contest seeking a name for the fuzzy mascot, which was the brainchild of the then Chamber President Mel Boldt and who set out to create a highly visible, appealing symbol to dramatize a vibrant, successful business organization.

Skipper the Fox is rated a huge success by chamber members. His services are available at no cost.

"I was sort of embarrassed at first, but now I feel O.K.," remarked Rick, who has another after-school job managing a Zion apartment complex for his uncle.

Rick's only problem is squeezing his 212 pounds into the Skipper suit. "I could do more if I had more room," remarked Rick.

"Kids love the fox," reported Rick. "He's always the center of attraction wherever he goes. The only time I wasn't surrounded was a Christmas parade. Skipper can't compete with Santa Claus."

Now that he's accustomed to his duties, Rick still is grateful for one thing. Skipper the Fox doesn't have to talk.

Financial leaders express confidence

by KIM BOLTON
Lakeland Newspapers

Is Lake County recession resistant?

The consensus among leaders in local financial institutions is that the county seems to be about as resistant to recession as an area could be.

Although Bill Shoemaker, president of the First of America Bank Mundelein facility, says banks are all feeling the positive effects of Lake County's strong economy, it isn't totally recession resistant. After all, the crunch of the early 1980s was felt hard here too.

But, Shoemaker certainly has a lot of faith in Lake County and in the whole Midwest for that matter. He says the economy of the entire Midwest is in much better shape right now than the rest of the country.

"When things tighten up, Lake County just keeps growing," Shoemaker said, adding that what seems to be true about stagnated growth on the East and West Coasts and in Texas, is just the opposite here.

"The Midwest is in an expansion phase. We're probably in the best area of the country for expansion. We're feeling it all over. It's still exploding. It's great," Shoemaker said.

As far as Lake County, specifically, is concerned, Shoemaker said one way he has to measure the wealth of residents is by the amount of money they are able to save. First of America Bank's November figures show a 4.8 percent increase in total deposits in 1989 over 1988.

Shoemaker says part of the reason for all of the growth taking place is the "real strong" pharmaceutical industry that brings not only corporate offices and manufacturing facilities, but people in need of housing into the county.

Brad Nickerson, president of Gurnee National Bank, also agrees that big business is coming to Lake County.

"I think corporate America has really found Lake County," Nickerson said, adding that Motorola coming in will only add to a list of big companies like Baxter and Abbott that help keep the county's economy strong.

Nickerson believes Lake County is sheltered from the stagnation found in other parts of the country.

"I think what's true on a national scale will not be going on in Lake County.

"If there is a recession, I think we'll be one of the last ones to feel it and the first ones to come out of it," Nickerson said.

Community Bankers launch anti-drug campaign

The Independent Bankers Assn. of America (IBAA) announces a program called "Bank on Prevention," designed to help deter abuse of drugs and alcohol, and thus to preserve the future of America's communities.

In announcing the program, IBAA signalled that it would seek to actively involve its thousands of member banks in the war against drugs at the community level.

"Because the tragedy of substance abuse and addiction is present in nearly every city and town in the country, IBAA has pledged its support to the Bank on Prevention program. This campaign is designed to be carried out on a local level by local leaders," said IBAA Vice-President David Ballweg. Ballweg is also president of Community State Bank in Union Grove, Wisc.

According to experts, the best way to prevent drug and alcohol abuse is through education and by providing healthy alternatives such as constructive recreation and other activity programs for youth.

Since locally designed and implemented programs are much more likely to be effective than a uniform approach, IBAA will act as a clearinghouse to supply its 6,300-member community banks with information and strategies for establishing their own drug and alcohol abuse prevention programs. IBAA will also publicize successful efforts. These programs will give local business communities an opportunity to become fully involved with their area's leaders in the educational, health and other fields.

Investors should think long-term

by TERRANCE R. GAERTNER
Lakeland Newspapers

While being interviewed recently, I was asked to state the single most important piece of advice that I could give to today's investor. After considering all of the different disciplines that are necessary to become a successful investor, I concluded that the single most important investment strategy is to be a long-term thinker.

An enormous amount of money has been, is being, and will be lost by many small investors as well as some institutional investors who try to chase the fast dollar. We always hear someone bragging at a cocktail party that they tripled their money in several months in some "hot investment." And then we wonder why we can't make the money that easily.

The truth is this. In order to achieve investment results such as tripling your money in several months, you must be willing to risk losing all of your invested dollars. For most of us, that simply is not a risk that we are willing to take. The losers in the high risk investment arena far outweigh the winners. You just don't hear from the losers at a cocktail party.

After we have provided for adequate liquidity, I try to get my clients to think investments that are in their high cycle by selling some of those investments and using the proceeds to invest ment" which usually have already been run up in price. Then they want to sell their "bad investments" which are usually depressed as to price. The result is that they buy high and sell low. Not a great investment strategy.

To summarize, we believe that investors should be in diversified portfolios (i.e. not 100 percent in CDs). This means that some of their investments will experience fluctuations in their asset value. You must be prepared to track your investments with the understanding of what makes the values fluctuate both up and down over time. Assuming your portfolio's asset mix is a reasonable one, be prepared not only to hold on to the assets that are in their down cycle, but to make additional purchases of those assets by selling off a portion of those assets that have done well.

This readjusting of your portfolio should be done on an annual basis. A good financial planner can help you get started by constructing a sensible portfolio and then assist you with the ongoing implementation of this investment strategy. The key here is to think long term.

This Way to Wealth

about their serious investments (college funding, retirement planning, etc.) on a long-term basis. By long-term, I mean a minimum of three to five years and often we are looking at a time frame of 10 to 20 years or more. This means that you must give considerable thought into the makeup of the portfolio that you construct. The underlying assets have to make sense for a long-term hold.

Most importantly, you must be willing to stick with investments that are cyclical in nature when they are in their down cycle. In fact, you should understand the cycle and if the basic investment is sound, be willing to allocate more of your portfolio dollars to those investments when they are in their down cycles. In order to do this, you will want to lock in some of your profits from your in assets that are in their low cycle.

When properly carried out, this investing strategy will force you to "buy low and sell high." This concept sounds simple, but most investors have a difficult time implementing such a plan with out the help and discipline provided by a professional financial planner.

Too many investor's end up buying what they perceive to be a "hot invest-

Film Review

Although many film critics have panned the un-Spielberg-like "Always," this one found it to be an enjoyable bit of fluff, full of female romanticism.

We have good performances by Academy Award nominees Holly Hunter and Richard Dreyfus, who do well in their roles of lovers separated when Dreyfus dies as his forest fire fighting plane crashes.

Yet the big surprise of this one is Dreyfus' live rival for Hunter's affections, Brad Johnson. Girls, he's just gorgeous!

The plot, based on the WW2 flick "A Guy Named Joe," has Dreyfus come back to teach Johnson how to be as great a fire fighting pilot as he was, despite the fact that Johnson and Hunter have become a twosome.

The only scenes that were vaguely tinted with the usual Spielberg touch were the planes flying through the forest fires.

Spielberg said he made this one because "Joe" was always one of his favorite movies.

We're going to give this one four out of five stars, not on technical merit, but simply because its innocent romanticism is refreshing!

Be there

For a fun place to go, try the Meadows 21 Restaurant in Libertyville. Enjoy its new jazzy entertainment with the serving of dinner starting at 7:30 p.m.

Don't forget, Milwaukee's Winterfest will be running through Feb. 11. On Jan. 27, Michael Bolton will be featured and on Feb. 2, it will be jazz with Earl Klugh. Feb. 3 it will be jazz again with Nelson Rangell and on Feb. 10, you can rock with the Georgia Satellites.

On Feb. 16, at 7 p.m., A Salute to Orson Wells will feature one of his film classics, "The Magnificent Ambersons," at the Woodstock Opera House.

Pianist Donald Walker will be featured on Sunday, Jan. 28, at 3 p.m., at the College of Lake County auditorium in the second of a three part concert series.

White Saddle will be playing at the Sundance Saloon, just outside of Mundelein, starting at 9 p.m., on Jan. 26, 27.

A big comedy draw headed for the Drake Theatre at Barat College in Lake Forest is Second City's National Touring Company's "Best of Second City," including vignettes from the improvisational company's past 15 years. Show is set for 8 p.m., on Feb. 16 and 17.

You can still catch "Side by Side by Sondheim," a review featuring the musical works of some of America's greatest artists, running at the Woodstock Opera House through Feb. 4.

Speaking of treading the boards, Antioch's community theater group, Palette, Masque and Lyre (PM&L) is bringing the comedy/farce "Scapino" to the stage of the little theater, one block off Broadway (in Antioch that is), starting on Feb. 2.

For a special Valentine's shindig, St. Therese Medical Center in Waukegan will sponsor a benefit dinner dance, "Affair of the Heart," at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort on Feb. 3. Individual admission is $100.

Theme park looks for new talent

Six Flags Great America will conduct its annual talent search Friday and Saturday, Feb. 23 and 24.

Open audition call times both days, for the Broadway-style musical show "Dancin' in the Streets," will be 10 a.m. for dancers followed by singers at 1 p.m. in the Grand Music Hall.

Singers should bring music in their own key and be prepared to dance. No recorded accompaniment or a cappella auditions will be allowed. Dancer will be given a combination by the Six Flags choreographer and should be prepared to sing.

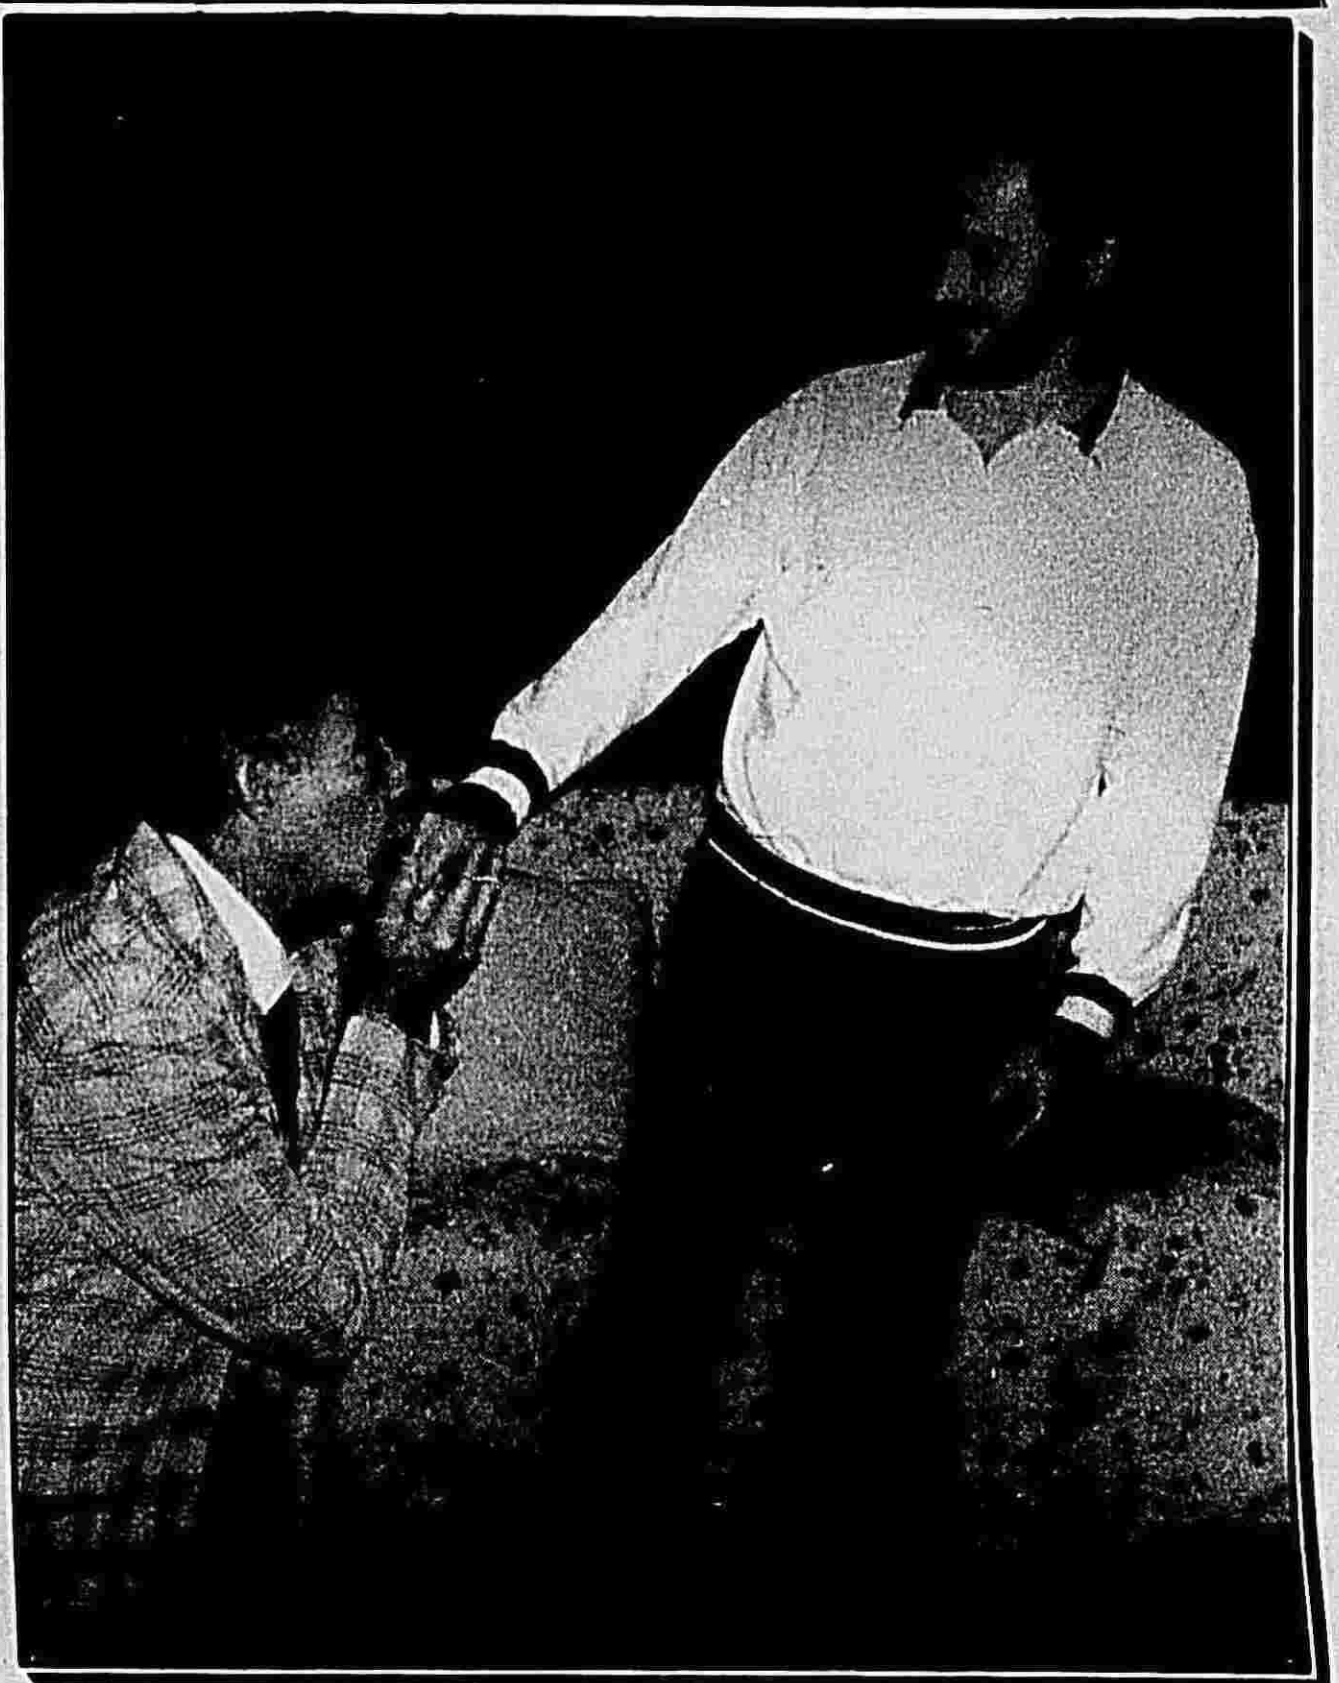

In addition, Great America will conduct an audition in Theatre Royale on Feb. 23 and 24 for performers to help bring the Warner Bros. characters to life.

All auditionees for the character/escort program will be given a musically staged dance combination by the Six Flags choreographer. Open audition call time for the character/escort program is 1:30 p.m. in Theatre Royale.

Registration for all auditions begins 30 minutes prior to scheduled call times. Applications will be available at the Grand Music Hall audition site for technical and wardrobe positions, as well.

All auditionees must be at least 16 years of age by March 16. Enter the park via the Rte. 21 employee entrance and follow the signs to either the Grand Music Hall for "Dancin' in the Streets" auditions or Theatre Royale for the character/escort auditions.

Six Flags Great America is an equal opportunity employer. The park is located at I-94 and Rte. 132 (Grand Ave. east) in Gurnee.

Comedy at Andres

Rosebud Productions will bring down the curtain on 'Old Wine in a New Bottle,' this weekend at Andres Steakhouse Dinner Theatre in Richmond. Left, Don Crop as Irving, kisses ring of rabbi, Stan Livermore; as his girlfriend, Dawn Heilgeist, reacts incredulously in adult comedy.

'Chess' opening at Marriott

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre presents the Chicago premiere of the International hit musical "Chess," beginning Jan. 28, and playing through April 8.

"Chess" origins were in 1985, when Tim Rice (lyricist partner of Andrew Lloyd Weber for "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," "Jesus Christ Superstar" and "Evita") approached the writing team of the pop group ABBA, Benny Anderson and Bjorn Ulvaeus ("Dancing Queen," "Fernando" and "Knowing me, Knowing You").

The resulting concept recording of "Chess" became an International gold album in 1985 and spawned the hit songs "One Night In Bangkok" and Whitney Houston's "I Know Him So Well."

In 1986, Chess opened as a stage musical in London and played for three sold-out years. Its New York opening featured a new book by playwright Richard Nelson and, although its run was brief, the Broadway show quickly developed a cult following, so much so that it was remounted in a special benefit concert version, complete with original cast.

"Chess" is about three people who have paid a huge emotional price for success, only to realize that glory does not bring contentment: an American (Kim Struss) who has reached the world chess finals; his Soviet counterpart (David Studwell); and the American's adviser and erstwhile bedmate (Susan McMonagle), who falls in love with the Soviet.

Theirs is not a charming Ninotchka-style romance: The CIA and the KGB hover on the periphery, exploiting the players and the game. This romantic musical uses East-West ideologies to mirror global politics on a human scale.

Rice's sophisticated lyrics are stylishly encased by Anderson and Ulvaeus' lush poperatic score that Time magazine called "one of the best rock scores every produced in the theatre."

Strauss (the American, Freddy) returns to Marriott's in "Chess," having appeared in numerous shows, including "Shenandoah" and the American premiere of "Windy City." His 1989 appearances on television's "Star Search" won him a five-time title of Best Male Vocalist.

McMonagle (Florence) steps into the lead in "Chess" after her roles in "Funny Girl" and her acclaimed performance as Rizzo in "Grease" at Marriott's.

Studwell (the Russian, Anatoly) comes to "Chess" fresh from his portrayal of Vittoria Vidal in "Sweet Charity" at Candlelight dinner Playhouse.

Produced by Kary M. Walker, "Chess" Chicago premiere reunites director/choreographer David H. Bell and musical director Kevin Stites. Bell, who directed the world premiere of "Matador" last year at Marriott, recently restaged the show in Florida to critical and audience acclaim. Maestro Stites returns to Marriott after a year with the first national touring company of "Les Miserables."

Mardi Gras benefit set for David Adler Center

Mardi Gras '90, a gala dinner/dance and auction benefit for the David Adler Cultural Center, promises to be the most elegant and exciting event Adler has hosted to date.

Mardi Gras, the Adler Cultural Center's biggest annual fundraiser, is scheduled for Saturday, March 3 at Meadows 21, 1760 N. Milwaukee Ave. in Libertyville.

Guests will be greeted with glittering masks, jugglers, and traditional Mardi Gras revelry. A 50's-60's deejay will entertain with jitterbug and twist contests while an adjoining room will feature a band playing New Orleans style jazz and a Louis Armstrong sing-alike contest.

The auction room will display sensational prizes, and party-goers can bid on a hot air balloon ride, a sailing and dinner cruise for four on Lake Michigan, designer clothing, theatre packages, health and fitness memberships and equipment, and much, much more.

Tickets are $40 per person and are available by calling the David Adler Cultural Center (708)367-0707.

Victor Lanza triumphs in Libertyville appearance

by VIRGINIA KRUEGER
According to the full house audiences at Libertyville High School this past weekend, the consensus of opinion seems to be, "Victor is just wonderful."

This writer heard no aspersions as to the validity of Victor's heritage. Rather, Victor received standing ovations with cries of "More, more."

Along a more personal vein were remarks such as,

"Be still my beating heart," "Oh, isn't he great," "I think I'm in love," "He looks ans sounds like Mario" and, "I wonder if he'll be appearing in the area again soon?" All this, plus stacks of requests at the box office for autographs and photos.

Lanza appeared as a guest soloist with the well-known, Gerry Traxler's Choral Dynamics singers, Saturday and Sunday Jan. 20 and 21. Thirty-five to 50 people had to be 'turned away' Saturday evening due to the large crowd in attendance. "Some were irate" said Madge Buchholz, box office manager, "but most understood, and said they would return on Sunday."

As to the question of whether Lanza will be appearing in the area soon, yes, Victor Lanza has graciously agreed to appear at the Carmel High School gala extravaganza, Street Scenes, on Feb. 9 and 10. The general theme of this years Street Scenes is, "Street Scenes Swings Through the U.S.A."

Lanza will be appearing in the room titled, "Swingin' At The Ritz"

Symphony slates artists' auditions

The Waukegan Symphony Orchestra will be holding auditions for their Tenth Annual Young Artist's Competition on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 3 and 4 at Jack Benny Center for the Arts in Bowen Park in Waukegan.

The first weekend in February, 34 students from 22 different towns and cities in Lake and Cook Counties will compete for an opportunity to perform a concerto with the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra on April 7. Three students will be chosen on Feb. 4 and will compete for first, second and third place cash prizes in April.

"The competition is really growing," stated Lynn Shumaker, business manager of the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and Chorus. "Last year we had 27 students compete in February and the year before that around 20 auditioned. This is the first year we've had to go to a two day audition; in the past, it has taken place in just one day."

The Young Artist's Competition will be conducted by the fourth guest conductor of the season, Ray Fowler of Charlottesville, Va. His program includes "Overture to West Side Story" by Bernstein, "Romeo and Juliet Suite No. 1," by Prokofiev as well as the three concerti

This season, the Waukegan Symphony Orchestra will perform under five guest conductors. At the end of the season, one of the conductors will be asked to take the position of orchestra director for the 1990-91 season.

The first phase of the competition is open to the public free of charge. Tickets for the April 7 concert are available at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts in Bowen Park, $10 for adults and $5 for students, senior citizens and military personnel.

'Web' Auditions

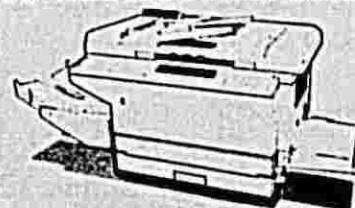

The Waukegan Community Players will hold auditions for "Charlotte's Web," on Sunday, Jan. 28, from 2 to 5 p.m., and on Monday, Jan. 29, and Tuesday, Jan. 30, from 7 to 9 p.m., at Rosewood Cottage in Bowen Park.

Mom Likes To Cook

By Randee Rian

Even though the weather has been unseemingly warm, January's winter cold has touched us. It's time for those hearty, warming casserole recipes. Grandma calls them "stick to your ribs . . ." Mom says, "they're good for you." Well, my favorites are the popular flavors and ingredients I transform into great tasting home-style foods with made-from-scratch goodness. Whether you are feeding a small group or a crowd; creative, reliable casseroles are the perfect choice for today's busy cook. Hope you enjoy these.

Years ago, my husband and I enjoyed this strangely named dish in England. To our surprise and enjoyment we found the "toad" to be long sausages baked in a pancake-like batter that puffs up beautifully. The cold applesauce is a nice contrast to the puffy wedges. Great served on a breakfast buffet table with orange juice or Mimosas.

Toad-in-the-Hole (Sausages in a puffy, baked batter)

- 6 link sausages
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 large eggs
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- Freshly ground pepper
- Applesauce

Preheat oven to 375 degrees Fahrenheit. Cook sausages in small skillet over medium-high heat until browned evenly on all sides and partially cooked through. Drain well and arrange in star-pattern in the bottom of nine-inch pie plate.

Combine remaining ingredients except applesauce in blender, mix until smooth. Pour over sausages and bake until top is puffed and browned, about 20 minutes. Cut into wedges and serve immediately with applesauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

A Mexican flavor, another good make-ahead recipe that doesn't need you until the final assembly. Use a large serving platter; place turkey and sauce over rice, add dollops of sour cream and sprinkle chopped green onions over all. Pass spicy salsa for extra zip. Ole!

Turkey Ranchero

- 3 1/2 to 4 lbs. turkey thighs and legs
- Salt and pepper
- 1 pkg. (1 5/8 oz.) enchilada sauce mix
- 1 can (6 oz.) tomato paste
- 1 cup water
- 1 1/2 cup grated Monterey Jack cheese
- 1/2 cup pitted ripe black olives
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 2 Tbls. to 1/4 cup chopped green onions

Sprinkle turkey pieces with salt and pepper (remove skin). Place a large casserole. Combine the dry sauce mix with the tomato paste and water. Pour or spread mixture over each turkey piece. Cover casserole and bake at 300 degrees Fahrenheit for 2 1/2 hours or until turkey is tender. Remove turkey parts from sauce and allow to cool slightly.

Remove bones from turkey and keep meat warm. Ladle off excess fat from the sauce remaining in the casserole. Add the cheese and olives to the sauce. Turkey may be placed back in sauce at this time for reheating. Heat until sauce is hot and cheese is melting. Serve turkey and sauce over rice or noodles. Spoon a dollop of sour cream on each piece of meat and sprinkle with chopped green onion. Makes 8 servings.

This is an easy and pretty microwave version of the traditional Shepherd's Pie; meaning meat and vegetables layered in casserole dish, topped with hot, mashed potatoes and cheddar cheese.

Shepherd's Pie

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen peas and carrots
- 1 can tomato soup
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 tsp. salt 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 tsp. basil
- 3 cup hot mashed potatoes, your homemade or instant
- 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese

Crumble ground beef into 2-qt. casserole, add the chopped onion and microwave at high for 4 to 6 minutes or until meat loses its pink color. Break up the meat and drain fat.

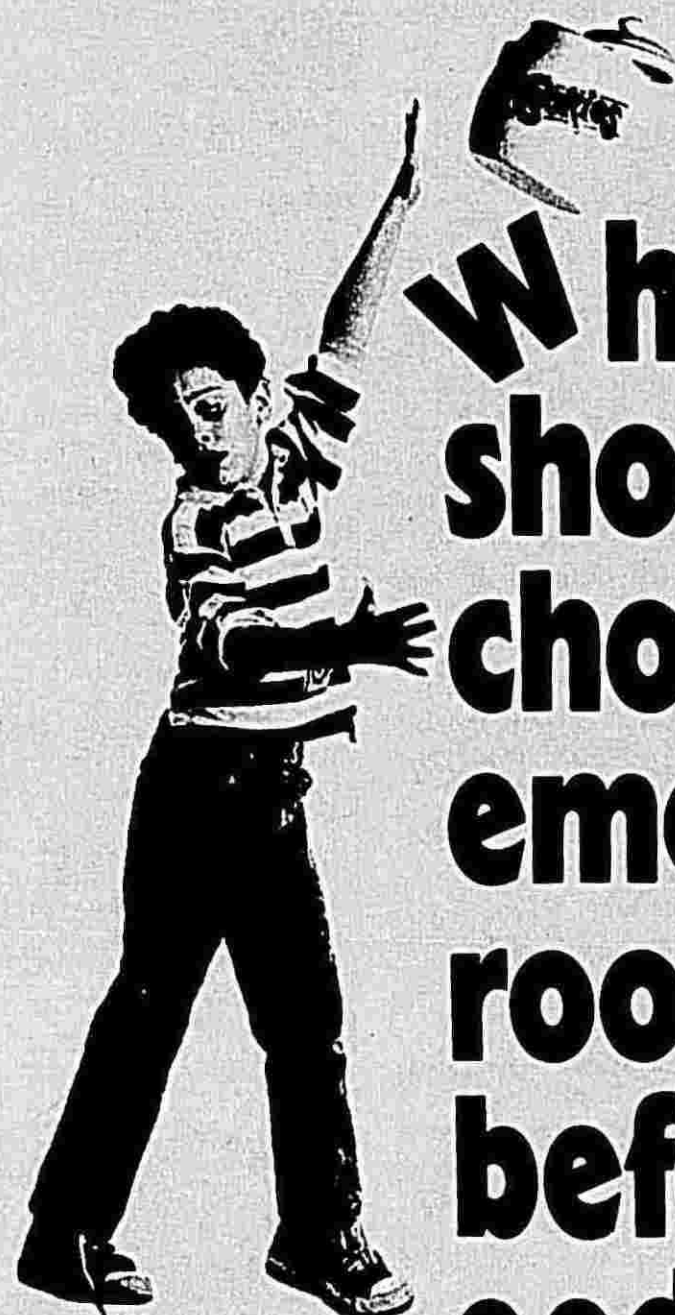

Microwave the vegetables in bowl at high 2 to 3 1/2 minutes, or until defrosted. Stir tomato soup, Worcestershire sauce, salt, basil and pepper into ground beef mixture while microwaving vegetables. Spread evenly in casserole. Sprinkle with defrosted vegetables. Spoon mounds of hot, mashed potatoes over vegetables. Microwave 5 to 7 minutes, or until casserole seems hot.

Top with with shredded cheese. Microwave 2 to 3 1/2 minutes, or until cheese melts, rotating dish after half the cooking time. Let stand. Serves 4 to 6.

Pullman schedules auditions

Don't base vacation plans on ground hog's habits

Feb. 2 is Groundhog Day, regarded as the designator of weather for the following six weeks. If this burrowing creature emerges in sunlight strong enough to produce his shadow, he allegedly will retreat to his burrow to sleep out another six weeks of winter...but don't bet your spring vacation on it!

This belief originally began in Europe as a guide for planting schedules based on the sleeping habits of the hedgehog. When our forefathers came to America, the forecasting was switched to the groundhog because it looked most like the hedgehog of the "old country" so groundhogs became our substitute for the "look-alike" hedgehogs.

When our groundhog awakens in February, weather is the last thing on his mind. He leaves his burrow in search of a mate! After finding a female and mating, he returns home. About a month later, he becomes the father of about four kits, who remain with mother until late June.

They are rodents that average seven pounds and grow to about two feet in length. They are great diggers and their underground engineering may extend 40 feet. Farmers don't like them but foxes and coyotes do; and man, their most serious enemy, legally hunts them between June 1 and March 31.

Staying above ground now, the first suburban RV and Camper Show of the season begins Friday, Jan. 27, at Pheasant Run's MegaCenter in St. Charles, on Rte. 64. Some 30 manufacturers will present new lines for 1990 through local dealers. Buying locally is a thoughtful consideration when maintenance is needed on a scheduled basis or when additional parts and equipment are desired. Each year new interest occurs among those who have never camped or owned an RV. This type of show allows time to inspect and discuss needs and uses of equipment with experienced personnel.

Pheasant Run offers a comfortable display area in a recreational atmosphere. Parking is free and convenient to display area. Admission is $4 and $1 for children six to 12. Friday, opening day, is senior day, with retirees at half-price admission. Door prizes add to the occasion and display booths covering recreational destinations for campers offer a selection of visiting points.

Sponsor theater outing

Home Federal Bank for Savings will sponsor a community outing to the Fireside Theatre in Ft. Atkinson, Wisc., for their musical revue, "Holiday in Acapulco '90" on Friday, Feb. 2.

All area residents are encouraged to join this excursion to the Fireside Complex, a one-acre enclosed shopping, dining and entertainment facility.

A Mexican Fiesta lunch will be served prior to the performance at the Fireside Restaurant.

The musical production "Holiday in Acapulco" highlights the traditional music and dance of this colorful Mexican city.

The tour departs from Home Federal's Round Lake Beach office, 835 E. Rolins Rd., at 9 a.m., returning at 7 p.m. Tickets are $58; $51 for Home Federal's Prime Time Club members, and

My favorite budget Hawaiian hideaways

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

OK, so I do get a free hotel room occasionally, but not always. There are also times when I would rather choose where I'm going to stay rather than take a free room. This is most true in Hawaii. That's when I seek out my bargain hideaways. Here are some, listed by island.

On the west side of Maui is a little resort called the Coconut Inn. It's surrounded by pineapple-covered hills and is just a short walk to the quiet beaches of Napili Bay. You can barbecue in a garden overlooking the Pacific Ocean with a view of Molokai. Help yourself to the herbs growing there to spice up your cooking.

My favorite of the Hawaiian Islands is Kauai. Picking one resort is hard, but Hanalei Colony is your best bet if you really want to get away from it all. Don't expect anything fancy here—just acres of beachfront and hiking trails along spectacular cliffs. Remember Nurses' Beach from the movie "South Pacific?" It's just a short walk from here.

On the "big island" of Hawaii you must spend at least a couple of days at the Volcano House. It's a lodge built in the 1930s and is located in Volcano National Park. It is also sitting right on the edge of one of the most active volcanos in the world. Rather than a view of the ocean, the better rooms here offer a spectacular view of an erupting volcano if you are there on the right night.

So far, I have been unable to find a hideaway I like on the island of Oahu. But if you are looking for a real bargain right in Waikiki, the Outrigger Hobron has just joined the Days Inn chain and is offering the same $48 rate as on the mainland. The rooms at this price are very limited, though.

Well, we're out of space, but this was fun. Maybe I'll give away some more secret resorts next week.

MARION

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 55'0" x 42'0"
LIVING: 2408 square feet
GARAGE: square feet
COVERAGE: 1785 square feet

SECOND FLOOR PLAN
PLAN 10 209-35

FIRST FLOOR PLAN
PLAN 10 209-35

No doubt about it, the Marion, with its wide wrap-around porch, matches the nostalgic image of a farmhouse every American keeps tucked in a back corner of his or her mind. Fortunately, it can be built anywhere, and inside it's not in the least bit old-fashioned. Except for the formal parlor, that is. Its double doors swing open only on the most special occasions.

Two bedrooms and a deck are upstairs. Everything else is on the main floor, including the master suite. Once the kids are gone, an older couple could easily confine their living to the main floor, keeping the two upper bedrooms ever-ready for guests or converting them to other uses.

High ceilinged and bright, the kitchen, nook, family room and dining room are completely modern in their free-flowing lay-out and the area opens onto a wide deck. Invite twenty, even thirty people, over for the evening, and still it won't feel crowded.

The first thing you see, entering the room, is the polished wood of a graceful open stairwell. At the second floor landing, it forms an open bridge - a great vantage point for watching goings-on below. A quiet observer might even go completely unnoticed for awhile.

The kitchen, with both a huge butcher-block work island and another long eating bar island, provides plenty of elbow room for couples or friends who enjoy cooking together. It also features a large walk-in pantry and built-in desk. Utilities and a small water closet are tucked conveniently behind the kitchen, and also accessible outside.

The master suite has a spa and a huge walk-in closet as well as a shower, double vanities and its own access to the deck.

For a study plan of the MARION (209-35), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

By Joyce Jillson

Weekly Tip: The moon in Sag could make your mind soar with exciting thoughts about the unknown. Brilliant business ideas too.

Aries (March 21-April 19) If you don't travel physically you may travel mentally. You're clear about career's direction.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) Business expenses could stand some artful trimming. Complete projects not start them.

Gemini (May 21-June 21) Relationships are either vastly stimulating or just the reverse. Live up to your boss's high standards.

Cancer (June 22-July 22) Curbing expenditures is a good idea; it's better to clear debts than create more. You have to wait on others, perhaps literally.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) Just what you like — more time to play! Follow your whims. Get serious about success.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If your living quarters are cramped, it might be time to prepare for a move. You know how to put your creative ideas into form.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's time to get friendly with your neighbors... your week to communicate. You have projects to complete.

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) Money comes in, but could go out just as fast. You have more self-control. Honors and rewards.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Though this may be a slower week, you gain more than anyone. Even your brashness works.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Face those skeletons in the closet. Rewards come easily to you.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Your connections with colleagues can be invaluable. You are zapped with upbeat energy.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20) Your public life demands more of your time. This week was made for private pleasures.

If You Were Born This Week
Happy Birthday Aquarius! Now that the burden on your past is beginning to lift, you can make a new start.

Church Talk

MUNDELEIN

"How to Use the Bible for Everyday Living" will be the topic of lecture and discussion Wednesday evening, Jan. 31, at St. Mary of Vernon Church in Vernon Hills. Fr. Lanza will present the second topic of the four-week series, "Faith Aerobics: Get Your Soul in Shape," from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the parish center. The series will continue on Feb. 7 and 14 with "Living Our Faith in a Crisis" and "Parenting in the 90s," respectively. For additional information or reservations, contact Barb Donnelly at the parish at (708)362-0653 or Pat McAllister at (708)680-9394.

WAUCONDA

The Federated Church of Wauconda, corner of Barrington Rd. and Liberty St. in Wauconda, will be revising their schedule to include two worship services, at 9 a.m. and at 11 a.m., and church school for all ages at 10:15 a.m. The 9 a.m. service will be a more traditional service, and the 11 a.m. worship will be a more contemporary service. A nursery for children ages 0 through three is provided at both services. Children's Church for children three years to fifth grade is provided at the 9 a.m. worship service. For more information, call the church office at (708)526-8471.

ISLAND LAKE

Isaiah 53 Ministries, a contemporary Christian musical group from McHenry, will perform at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday, Jan. 28, at the First Community Church of Island Lake. For further information, call the church office at (708)526-7862.

Sequoits hoping 'Cats see red in NSC battle

If you like the color red and three-point shots, then Antioch basketball has the weekend for you.

Libertyville boys basketball Coach Max Anders and his Wildcats will be seeing Saturday night.

That's because Antioch High School will be letting all fans who wear the school color red into the contest free. This includes the sophomore game, which begins at 6 p.m.

Basketball fans wishing to see just what impact the three-point shot has had on the game may do well to attend the Warren-Antioch contest Jan. 26 in Gurnee.

Both the Blue Devils and the Sequoits are coming off North Suburban Conference wins, and the victories have featured the teams lighting it up from three-point range.

"Both teams have that capability," Warren Coach Darrel Bader said.

The Blue Devils used six three-pointers from their long-distance ace, Dave Spiller to spark a 64-45 win over Zion-Benton. The win improved the Blue Devils to 9-7 overall.

Spiller finished with 23 points to lead the winners while Derek Shelton had 11 and Byron Reynolds 10.

"We had good balance and we passed the ball real well," Bader said.

Both Warren and Antioch come into the doubleheader weekend to begin the NSC second round with 4-5 records. A double win weekend could propel both to the first division, while a double loss could send that team to a second division finish.

While Warren had nine three-pointers (Shelton had two and Dave Huffhines one), Antioch's Jeff Becker was hitting his shots from all over the court in a 53-47 win over Fenton.

Becker finished with a career-high 31 points. He was four-for-six from two points, five-for-six from three point range and eight-for-11 from the free throw line.

"Jeff was getting everything out of our offense. He did not force anything," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said.

Becker, a couple of weeks ago had hit a dramatic buzzer beater to beat North Chicago. He had 16 points against Zion-Benton and nine against Mundelein before the memorable performance against Fenton.

"He felt the pressure at the beginning of the season because he was a returning senior and felt he had to do more scoring than he had to. He has played real well the last four or five games," Dresser said.

Antioch improved to 6-11 overall with the win, which was not decided until the final seconds.

Mike Galdine, who scored just five points for the game, hit his two free throws of the contest with seven seconds left.

Some 23 fouls were called in a second half span.

Warren travels to Fenton Saturday. "They're a team that is hard to defense," Bader said.

Winning record still possible for ACHS girls

The race is on in the North Suburban Conference.

For second place, that is.

Undefeated Warren clinched at least a tie

Gymnasts set for NSC meet

Antioch High School's gymnastics program may not have had the most successful of years, but the Sequoits are nonetheless heading into the conference meet off an upbeat note.

Coach Debbie Ramsey's team downed Cary-Grove in non-conference action 12.4 - 72.2 last week.

Julie Forrest gained a first place in the team with a 7.1. Beth Maloney was first in the uneven parallel bars with a 6.8 and Kami Weber had an 8.3 on the floor exercise for first place.

"We're still in a building year," Antioch Coach Debbie Ramsey said.

Libertyville, Mundelein and Stevenson are top Lake County teams expected to vie for the North Suburban Conference honors Mundelein Jan. 27.

Ramsey praised the efforts of several gymnasts, noting senior Elaine Johnson competed in the floor, beam, vault and around.

Sophomore Weber has been the team's top scorer in the floor exercise while Ashman Maloney has been a promising around.

The win over the Trojans gave the Sequoits a 4-6 record.

The team fell on rough times at the county meet, but Ramsey said she likes the new pool arrangement for teams.

for the conference crown, but Mundelein, Libertyville and Antioch are all in the running for at best a second place finish.

Antioch trails Mundelein by two games and Libertyville by one with an 8-6 record heading into this week's play.

The Sequoits are at Mundelein Jan. 27 after hosting Stevenson Jan. 25.

"One of our goals is to finish with a winning record and to do that, we would have to win three out of our last four games," Antioch Coach Al Tamburrino said.

Tamburrino was impressed with his 10-11 team's overall showings in wins over second division teams Niles North and North Chicago last week.

Against Niles North, Antioch trailed 17-11 after one but slowly improved in the next three quarters, winning each.

"They shot the lights out in the first quarter but we started to buckle down and play defense in the second," Tamburrino said.

The game boiled down to free-throws and the Sequoits made six of nine in the final eight minutes.

All team members scored at least two points against North Chicago, a 52-24 win. Sue Ozga had 12 points to lead Antioch and Liz Johnson had 10.

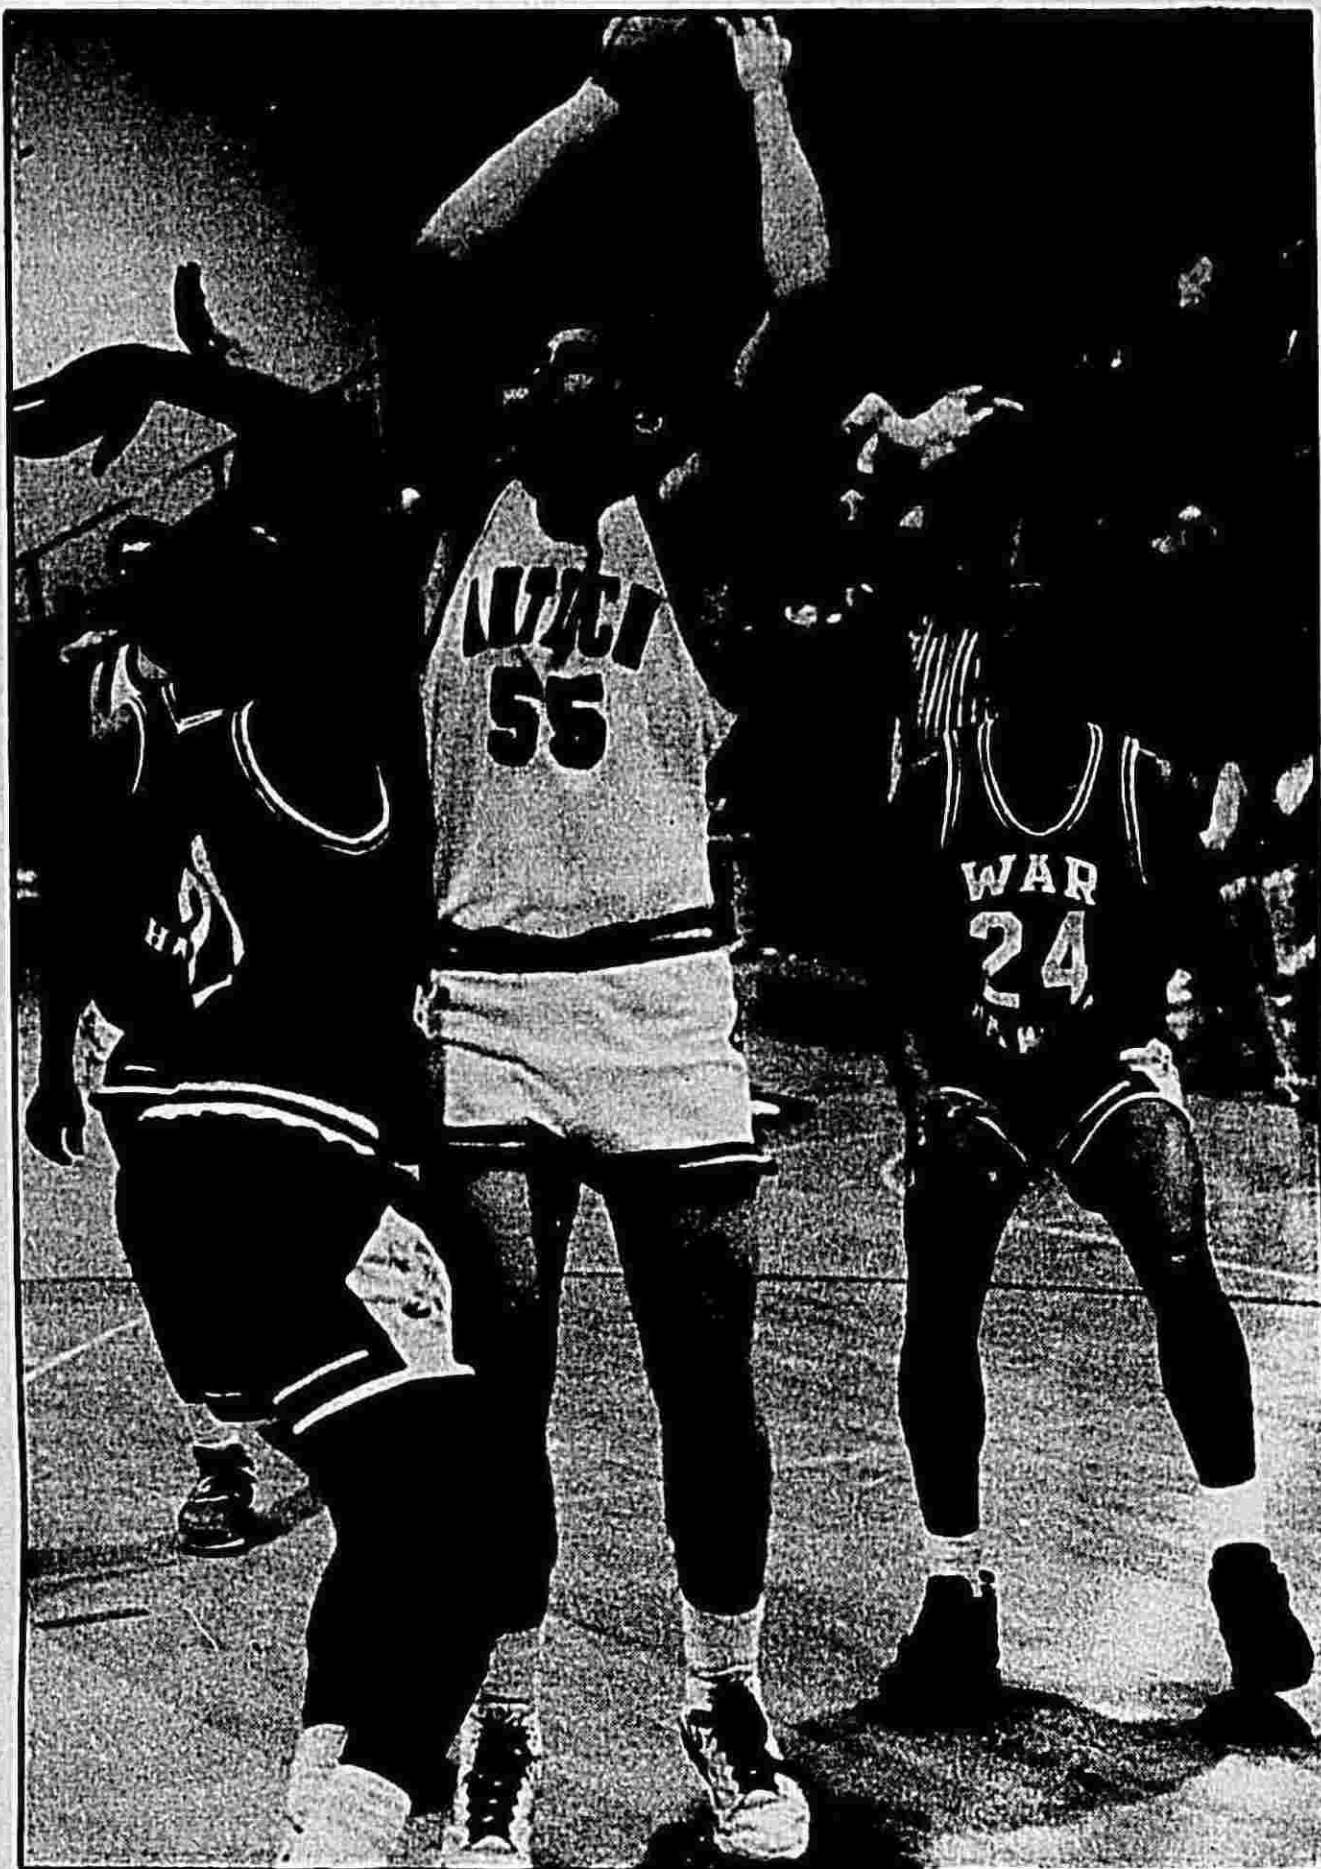

"We could finish anywhere from second to seventh," Libertyville Coach Tom Murphy said.

The Wildcats had edged Fenton 46-43 against a stubborn Lake Forest team.

Libertyville is at winless North Chicago Jan. 27 for a 2:30 p.m. game. "We broke away in the third quarter," Murphy said of a 17-7 Libertyville run.

Mundelein entered the Sequoit game with a 12-7 record, 9-4 in the NSC, one game ahead of Libertyville in league standings.

The Wildcats had to overcome poor shooting against the Scouts, as they shot just 16 of 56 from the field. Lake Forest managed just 34 percent.

Woods paces St. Peters to St. Bede tourney title

Antioch basketball fans would do well to write down the name of Jeff Woods.

Woods, is presently an eighth grader for the St. Peters School basketball team, but Antioch boys basketball Coach Jeff Dresser is probably already figuring how he can work Woods into the Sequoit lineup the next couple of years.

Woods wowed audiences at the St. Bedes tournament held Sunday. St. Peters beat arch-rival St. 48-42, the fourth time the two teams have met and the fourth time St. Peters has emerged on top. Woods was named tournament Most Valuable Player.

The tourney championship gave the Nabors a 19-2 overall record. They had earlier wrapped up the conference title with a 12-0 league mark.

"The team has been together since the sixth grade and the players play a lot and work together as a unit," Coach Larry Denzel said.

In addition to Woods' MVP honors, Casey O'Connell was named to the all-tournament team.

The Nabors faced Johnsbury Junior High in the first game and won 51-032 as Woods had 22 points and O'Connell 11. St. Peters led 12-8 after one, increased the margin to 31-17 at halftime and 41-25 after three.

In the second game against Gavin of Fox Lake, Woods scored 33 points. A 29-20 lead at halftime held up in the 54-41 win.

Woods scored 31 points in the final contest in which the Nabors had to overcome an early deficit of 11-8. A 15-7 St. Peters run in the second quarter provided a 23-18 lead. St. Peter opened a 14-point lead after three before St. Bede tried to rally in the fourth quarter.

In addition to Woods and O'Connell, Justin Runyard and Shawn Nolan had six points each.

Kevin Danzel scored six points in the first game while Don Pedersen did an excellent job of ballhandling, Coach Danzel said.

Kent Eipsen contributed his hustle - diving for loose balls and defending the other team's best ballhandler. Kris Wenkler, Eric Jones and Kevin Bracey all helped off the bench.

Doug Rebyard and Kevin Schoudel assisted Denzel. Wood's accomplishments were record-breaking earlier this season at the John Boyle Memorial tourney in Waukegan. The team won the consolation bracket, but Woods was named MVP in that tourney as well. His record breakers included:

- averaging 40 points a game;
- having a 46 point game;
- making 18 field goals in a game;
- making 18 free throws in one game;
- connecting on 45 field goals for three games.

Dad's motivation helps Seier excel in spotlight

By BRENT KILLACKEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Stephanie Seier dribbles the ball down court. It is late in the fourth quarter and she is two points away from setting a personal record.

Seier breaks away from her defender, and seizes an opportunity to take a shot. The ball sails through the air, and it hits nothing but net.

Seier has set a personal record of 28 points.

"It was exciting," Seier said.

Carmel, now 15-3 overall, topped Notre Dame 79-58.

Seier has achieved one of her for goals set by Coach Bob Haukedahl. Other goals still lie in the number of assists, three-pointers and steals.

Seier finds most of her motivation from her father, William, a nuclear engineer with Genesis in Bannockburn.

"My Dad's the one," Seier said. "I'm glad he pushed me (to get involved in athletics) and he still does now."

With her father as an inspiration, Seier has become involved in volleyball, basketball and softball.

"It keeps me busy," Seier said.

These three sports are in addition to one and one-half hours of homework a night. "It does not interfere, though," Seier said.

Her favorite sport among the trio is basketball. "I like the running. You are involved a lot and there is more action," Seier said.

To prepare for an upcoming game, Seier, a Libertyville resident, Seier usually does three things.

"I talk to my Dad," she said. "My Dad will give me a pep talk before the game. It makes me think more about what I am doing out there," Seier said.

Seier, 18, will usually then say a prayer and finally she runs around the house, rushing to get to the game.

"It gets really hectic," Seier said.

Seier said assists are a strong part of her game. "I am able to make a shot easier for another person. this is ironic since she is such a high scorer, too."

"I want to make it more intense defensively and make the other person work harder," Seier said.

Regarding future plans, Seier said she hopes to play basketball in college.

CHS girls gain division title share, tourney next

Carmel's girls basketball team took control in the second half and those efforts paid dividends in the form of clinching a division title tie at St. Viator Saturday.

"We will receive a plaque," Carmel Coach Bob Haukedahl said, noting that ties will not be broken.

The coach listed the entire starting team as the reason behind the domination of the second half. The two teams were tied at 25-25 at intermission.

By the end of the third quarter, Carmel had completed a 13-point swing with a 49-36 lead.

"It was an all around team effort," Haukedahl said.

Following the league tourney, the Corsairs are at the Libertyville regional and will face North Chicago in the first round.

Stephanie Seier had 20 points to lead the Corsairs, including three more three-pointers. Seier, a senior, had 17 points in the second half.

"We changed our defenses in the second half," Haukedahl said.

The Corsairs, 15-3 overall and 4-1 in the North Division, also received a strong game from Sarah Smith, who had 14 rebounds and Vicki Pecaro contributed 10 points and 10 rebounds.

Michele Muellner only had six points, but helped with five steals and three blocked shots. "Her floor play got us going," Haukedahl said.

Carmel was hoping to finish off a regular season in strong fashion at home against St. Francis de Sales Jan. 25. A seeding meeting Friday will determine where Carmel plays in the Girls Catholic Athletic Conference tournament next week.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: What can you tell me about eyelid surgery?

ANSWER: People who have surgery on their eyelids and tissues surrounding the eye do so for both health and appearance related reasons.

Due to the effects of aging or perhaps birth defects, the eyelids of many people appear to be "baggy" or to droop. For some people this condition may actually cause vision problems.

Other people have eyelid and eyebrow surgery to correct scars or damage caused by injuries or birth defects, to remove eyelid tumors, to assure the fit of an artificial eye or to accommodate changes in the shape of the eye and eyelid due to conditions such as thyroid disease. People considering surgery on eyelids, eyebrows and on tissues near the eye should first consult with an ophthalmic plastic surgeon.

NSC teams shooting for Libertyville grapplers

Libertyville wrestling coach Dale Eggert is hoping history repeats itself when the league converges on Lake Forest for the North Suburban Conference meet Jan. 27.

"Last year the conference meet was a real big push for us," Eggert said.

The Wildcats went on to qualify for the Elite Eight in the team side of the state meet, after nothing at least a share of the conference crown for the fourth time in as many years.

The other nine teams, meanwhile, are hoping some strong performances by their seeded wrestlers coupled with some upsets could help better their standings in the dual meet season.

The Wildcats ended the regular season with a 17-3 overall mark, undefeated in league duals. On Saturday, the Wildcats had no problems with Cary-Grove, winning 46-9 and a top Class A school, Harvard, 42-21.

Eggert said he has a number of wrestlers who could be seeded in the top three. Mike Lester at 26-1 leads the Wildcats at 171 pounds.

Mel Heckman, who was a back-up until his senior year, has won more than 20 matches at 189 pounds.

Doug Pelletier at 145, Kareen Khatib at 125, Brian Fisher at 152 and Ian Burger at 160 could all be seeded.

Eggert credits some competition against the elite of the state as a good reason for the success. The three dual meet losses came on one day - to DeKalb, Lyons and Conant.

"It helps to raise the intensity level," Eggert said.

As for the competition, he said don't rule out Antioch or Fenton.

Antioch Coach Ted DeRousse predicted before the season started that Libertyville, Fenton and his Sequoits would calsh for the league crown. And that's just how it happened.

"We're shooting for second place. It is a little unrealistic for us to think Libertyville will finish lower than third," he said.

The Sequoits, 7-2 in the NSC and 15-9-1 overall, have several wrestlers with impressive credentials themselves.

Chris Tointon is 7-1 in the NSC at 103 pounds, Glen Osmond 8-1 at 130, George Vallach 7-2 at 140, Matt Stedl 8-0-1 at 145.

Antioch is coming off a Saturday in which it fell to two state-ranked teams.

Making her mark

CLC women win third, but men fall to Chiefs

College of Lake County basketball teams featured a laughter and a strong start which came up short in game against Waubensee Tuesday.

The Lancers' next home games will be against Skyway Conference foe Elgin Feb. 1 beginning with the women's game at 5 p.m.

The women's team enjoyed a rare blowout, winning its third game of the season, 60-45.

Teri Huntington led the Lancers with 19 points and Crystal Payne, the other part of CLC's one-two scoring punch, scored 13. But Sue Spiller joined the double figure club with 10 and two players had six points.

"It was a total team effort," CLC Coach Don Zeman said.

Zeman said his forces were communicating better both on offense and defense.

CLC overcame 10-of-30 free-throw shooting to record a win and gain revenge for a one-point loss to the Chiefs earlier in the year.

The Lancers led by as many as 23 points in the early stages of the second half. Waubensee cut the lead to 12, but CLC eventually pulled back to a 17 point margin on two Spiller free throws.

In the men's game, Waubensee coach David Heiss kept his team in the lockerroom almost until the buzzer sounded to start the second half. The Chiefs trailed 29-22 at the time.

"We talked about the things we weren't doing. We just were not hustling," Heiss said.

CLC, 7-12 overall, had indeed dominated the first 20 minutes against the 17-5 team.

Panthers, NWSC start anew at league meet

All the lopsided wins, the close ones and the in-betweens have one thing in common for Round Lake's wrestling team.

They are history.

"I'm concerned now about the start of a new season," Round Lake Coach Bob Curran said of the Northwest Suburban Conference meet at Grant.

The Panthers come into the Jan. 27 meet as the team to beat with a 9-0 record in dual meets against the league and only one loss overall in 20 matches.

Jason Gilley leads the Panthers with a 30-1 record at 119 pounds. The Panthers lost to state power Marist Saturday but beat Antioch 38-19.

Heading into the conference meet off wins over Antioch are: Mike Pratt at 112 pounds, Gilley, Dave Minjares, Brian Rainer, Aric Rodrigues at 152 and the last three weight classes - Eric Micharski, Gerry McCue and Luis Tovar.

Johnsburg, meanwhile, is optimistic since it narrowly defeated archrival Grant 32-27 to improve to 5-1 in the NWSC, 13-2-1 overall.

The match battled down to whether or not Don Knibbe could win at heavyweight. Knibbe came through with a pin and Johnsburg won.

"They wrestled a lot better than I thought. They deserved to win," Johnsburg Coach Jim Briscoe said of Grant.

Briscoe said Knibbe, who is 21-6, has been gaining confidence for the big matches.

"He responds well to pressure," Briscoe said.

Johnsburg's hopes for placing include Chris Seitzler at 112 and Dave Mendlik at 135, Briscoe said.

The meet will feature several Lake County champs including state ranked Ryan Geist of Grayslake at 145 pounds, Paul Swanson of host Grant at 152, Dave Cashmore who had 26 straight wins at 189 and Derrick Pijut of Lake Zurich.

Strong start a priority for Carmel vs. Marist

Battling the flu for some of the 1989-90 basketball season, Carmel's Jim Cooney had an up-and-down season.

When the Corsairs traveled to take on St. Patrick Friday, Cooney's contributions were a bright spot in a 78-69 loss to St. Patrick in an East Suburban Catholic Conference game.

"Cooney did a nice job off the bench," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said.

Cooney, a Grayslake resident who also plays football and baseball at Carmel, scored six points but Rosberg praised the 6-3 senior's play under the boards as a positive factor.

The Corsairs fell behind to the tune of a 15-4 deficit after one quarter. While the visitors were competitive in the second quarter and won the third, the lead was too much to overcome. The loss dropped Carmel to 9-8 overall, 3-5 in the ESCC.

"St. Patrick is too good a team to fall that far behind against," Rosberg said.

The Corsairs have won three of their last four games though, after a disappointing loss to Notre Dame. Carmel hosts league power Marist Jan. 26 at 7:30 p.m. and Rosberg knows the team cannot afford another slow start. Marist features a player headed to the University of Notre Dame - 6-6 Carl Kosin.

"It will be very important to slow him down. You won't stop him. He plays the whole floor - he is a post player but he can shoot the three's and make them," Rosberg said.

Carmel, which had topped St. Viator 69-58 behind 24 points from Eric Maloney, was led in scoring by Maloney again against St. Pats. He had 14 points while Sean Ryan had 13.

Wildcats top rankings

Libertyville is back on top of the ratings this week while Richmond-Burton and Round Lake continue in hot pursuit. This week's Lakeland Newspapers ratings:

1. Libertyville: Wildcats, 13-3 overall, 7-2 in the North Suburban Conference, got back in gear in a big way against Rte. 176 rival Mundelein, taking out their frustrations of late in an 86-46 win. Shawn Stanek led three players in double figures with 16 points. Next: host cellar dweller Zion-Benton Jan. 26 and then travel to Antioch Jan. 27.

2. Richmond-Burton: Rockets won a shootout over North Boone then came up with a defensive gem in a 57-39 win over Geona-Kingston. Rockets were led by Jon Urban's 23 points against G-K. Rockets, 14-1, 8-1 in the Big Eight Conference, have chance to avenge that "one" when they host Harvard Jan. 26.

3. Round Lake: injuries and illness depleted the Panthers before facing Northwest Suburban Conference powerhouse Marengo Friday. But the way Coach Bob Ward's team played in 49-48 loss still merits them the third rating. Next: Panthers, 13-3, 4-2, face arch-rival Grayslake in away game Jan. 26.

4. Stevenson: Patriots lost out in battle for first place with Lake Forest, 60-57, but keep No. 4 rating with 10-6 overall record. Next: another key battle, this one for second place with Niles North Jan. 26 and host North Chicago Jan. 27.

5. Mundelein: although Mustangs fell on hard times against mighty neighbor Libertyville, Mustangs are still above .500 overall at 9-7. Next: at Lake Forest Jan. 26, host Niles North Jan. 27.

Five Lake County teams vie for girls hoops title

The first Knights of Columbus Precious Blood Council 9689 will be hosting the championship game of its first girls basketball tournament at the College of Lake County Jan. 27. The title game is expected to take place at 3:15 p.m. after the consolation game at 2 p.m. for third place.

The first third round game will feature St. Gilbert of Grayslake facing St. Emily. St. Gilbert advanced by winning 33-18 over St. James of Highwood. St. Emily beat St. Joseph of Libertyville 24-15.

In the other 6 p.m. contest, St. Frances DeSales, a 37-23 winner over St. Frances de Sales, will face St. Theresa. St. James of Arlington Heights, will face St.

Theresa. In first round games, St. James bested St. Annastasia 21-10 and St. Theresa downed St. Peter 22-13.

At 7:15 p.m., St. Thomas of Villanova will face Transfiguration of Wauconda. Transfiguration downed Lake Shore Catholic Academy 36-19. St. Mary edged Montini 21-20. St. Thomas beat St. Mary 24-16.

Our Lady of Humility downed St. Peter and Paul 18-17 in the second round to advance. St. Peter and Paul won 16-12 over Our Lady of Wayside.

St. Joseph topped St. Patricks of Wadsworth 20-13 in another game. St.

Pats had held back Prince of Peace 24-22 in the first round.

There was one injury in the St. Pats - when Angela Barbosa torn ligaments in a battle under the boards. She was transported to Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville by Grayslake rescue squad, where she was later released. Tournament director Norm Kleber said a trophy was given to her for participation "above and beyond the call."

Also, the second round of free-throw shooting competition took place at CLC. Some 1,170 competitors matched their free-throw shooting techniques.

Special Olympics event nears

Special Olympic teams from the northeastern Illinois area will be meeting at Lake Forest College-South Campus on Sunday, Jan. 28 to compete in the area Basketball Individual Skills Competition. The tournament is scheduled to begin with opening ceremonies at 9:45 a.m. and last until 3 p.m. The 125 entrants, representing 10 teams, will compete in field goal shooting, rebounding, passing and dribbling contests. All athletes will receive awards and the first three winners in each division will receive medals.

Since there is no fee to participate in Special Olympics, community businesses and organizations are being asked to make a donation to help offset the costs of the games. Anyone interested in making a contribution can mail a check to Northeastern Ill. Special Olympics, P.O. Box 897, St. Charles, IL. 60174.

The event is being organized by Tim Morgan and Tudy Connell of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity and Amy Kaylor of Northeastern Ill. Special Olympics.

Johnston not phased by Boness, Leafblad ticket

Round Lake County Board Dist. 4 candidate Charles Johnston of Round Lake Beach is not phased by the formation of a ticket by opponents Robert Boness and Larry Leafblad.

"I don't think it will change a thing regarding my chances of getting elected," said Johnston. "In fact, I think it's a mistake for Leafblad to hook-up with Boness."

Campaign organizers for Leafblad announced last week that the candidates were "running and campaigning together for the March 20 Primary."

Regarding his opponents, Johnston said, "Larry (Leafblad) is a nice guy with good intentions, but I don't think he's got the time it takes to be a County Board member. His business requires a lot of his time, and when he does have time he doesn't spend it reviewing county board-type issues. I just think it's a lack of experience."

Johnston is referring to Robert Hubka, Michelle Lee and Donald Newby, Jr., who all three were elected to the school board last fall. "Now that they are elected, Boness' secret plan of saving all the district's financial problems seems to be non-existent," said Johnston.

Johnston and incumbent Charlotte Kiesgen of Fox Lake have each received the endorsement of the Grant Twp. and Antioch Twp. Republican Clubs for the two vacant seats.

Avon Twp. sets sign-up for new baseball season

The Avon Twp. Youth baseball organization will be hosting its annual registration beginning Jan. 27 at Avon Twp. Center.

The dates and times for sign-up are as follows: Saturday, Jan. 27 from 1 to 3 p.m.; Thursday, Feb. 8 from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, Feb. 10 from 1 to 3 p.m.

Registration fee will be $35 per child. After Feb. 10, registration will go up to $45 a child.

Teams will be picked in March. Space is limited, so early sign-up is encouraged. The all-volunteer program is seeking new helpers for the upcoming season. Coaches, umpires, concession workers are needed. For more information, call Mike Tournas at (708) 546-6929.

Food Distribution

Monthly surplus food distribution will be held on Thursday, Feb. 1, at the Grant Twp. office, 411 Washington St. in Ingleside. The distribution, scheduled from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., will once again be on a first come, first serve basis.

Holiday Park closed issue, for now

by GERRI MAJKOWSKI
Lakeland Newspapers

"As far as we know, Holiday Park is a closed issue for at least 30 days," said Greg Murrey, chairman of the Fox Lake Planning and Zoning Commission. Board members seemed genuinely confused.

"Did I miss something?" asked board member Sally Kozior. She, as well as the rest of the board, was expecting to address the issue.

"All I know," replied Murrey, "is that Bob MacNeal (the owner) called a complete halt for 30 days. No explanation given."

Holiday Park, located on Rte. 134, just east of Rte. 12, featured picnic areas and water sports in the summer and skiing in the winter.

MacNeal and his father bought the land and developed it for this purpose 30 years ago. But Holiday Park is not drawing the crowds any more, and the owners want to subdivide and develop.

In the plans are single family homes, town homes, some small shops, and recreational facilities. Another part of the plan is to annex to Fox Lake.

Richmond offers dancing

Dance classes will be offered through the Creative Arts for boys, girls and adults. The eight-week series begins Tuesday, Jan. 30, at Grace Lutheran Church in Richmond on Thursday, Feb. 1, at the Richmond Village Hall.

Cost is $33 for the one-hour classes and $49 for the longer advanced classes.

Rhonda Fiumetto, formerly the instructor at the Danceworks in Fox Lake, will teach the classes. Each class will include training in ballet, tap and jazz dancing.

Students are to wear leotards, tights, ballet and tap shoes. The instructor has a limited supply of used tap shoes. Prior to the first class, Fiumetto will contact each student to determine proper class placement and answer any questions. Class size is limited.

Tuesday classes are for all intermediate students from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m., ages six-eight; 6:30 to 8 p.m., ages nine-12; and from 8 to 9:30 p.m., age 13 through adult classes will be taught.

Classes on Thursdays will be for all beginning students. From 3:30 to 4:30 p.m., ages three to five; from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., ages six-eight; from 5:30-6:30 p.m., ages nine-12; and from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. classes will be held for women's dance.

To register, send name, address and phone number with check payable to Creative Arts to CAC, P.O. Box 311, Spring Grove, IL 60081. For more information, call Yvonne Cryns at (815)678-7531, Donna Karolis at (815)675-6783, or Chris Gallagher at (815)675-6524.

St. Ignatius to hold annual Las Vegas night

The Men's Club of St. Ignatius Episcopal Church in Antioch is sponsoring a Las Vegas Night on Saturday, Feb. 3 at the VFW Hall, North Ave., Antioch.

Admission is $3 and beginning at 5 p.m., one may try their luck at blackjack, poker, big six, and ban table, and a money wheel to play for cash.

Food and beverages will be available and raffles for numerous prizes will be held.

Donations for the raffles include a leaf blower donated by Pedersen's G.M.C.; Loon Print donated by Strangs Funeral Home; portable tv donated by State Bank of Antioch; Wildlife Print donated by Bill Brook and other surprise raffles.

Many businesses in the area have been kind enough to sponsor tables and are also supplying dealers, so it has become a community effort with many local people involved.

Come and join the Men's Club of St. Ignatius and all their friends in the community for an enjoyable and fun evening.

Fox Lake challenge results in policy change

A Fox Lake challenge of the way the Lake County Housing Authority administers issuance of rental rehabilitation grants has resulted in a policy change "that will benefit all communities," according to Director Alon Jeffrey.

As a result of an inquiry made by Dr. William Dam, former mayor of Fox Lake and now a member of the Fox Lake Grade School board, LCHA will authorize subsidies for rental property only instead of conversions to rental.

"We're not going to use the rental rehabilitation program to create more rentals," Jeffrey affirmed.

Dam was critical of the program as creating an "imbalance" in Fox Lake that impacted negatively on the public schools.

Jeffrey said LCHA also will be working more closely with building commissioners in all county villages. He expects a policy of "early on" notification will be especially effective.

"We're indebted to Fox Lake for focusing on a problem. All of us will benefit," reported Jeffrey, who stressed that Fox Lake officials were supportive of LCHA policies in general. Assuming the leadership, Dam acted to challenge LCHA over the policy that tended to congregate low income families in Fox Lake. He said other communities affected included Zion, Highwood and the Round Lake area.

Retirees, baby boomers work together?

America's Baby Boomers are beginning to realize, as some of them near retirement age, that many of the health care problems that plagued their parents and grandparents are still around, the president of the American Association of Retired Persons says.

Speaking Monday to about 425 AARP members at the National Leadership Orientation Conference, organization president Louise D. Crooks said she hopes that far-sighted Baby Boomers can help solve some of those problems before they actually reach retirement age.

"The Baby Boomers are seeing what is happening to their parents' lack of adequate retirement incomes and the high cost of health care — and don't want the same things to happen to them," Ms. Crooks said.

Subsequently, Ms. Crooks said Baby Boomers and retired people are beginning to work together toward a common goal of achieving a better quality of life.

"This aging of America creates challenges and opportunities we must consider now, not 20 or 30 years from now," she said.

The population explosion that occurred between 1946 and 1964 and produced the Baby Boomers resulted in a third of all living Americans, about 76 million people, she said.

The first phase of this generation will reach age 50 in 1996 and begin retiring during the first decade of the 21st century, she said.

Quoting Census Bureau statistics, Ms. Crooks said there are now 64 million people in the United States age 50 or older. That age group will increase to 76 million by the end of this century and leap to 113 million by the year 2025.

Also, Ms. Crooks said the National Institute of Aging predicts that by the year 2040, life expectancy will be 86 years for men and more than 91 years for women.

"Will we be able to provide the health care this growing number of older Americans will need?" she asked. (AP)

Special performance for seniors Feb. 4

All area senior citizens are invited to a special preview performance of Carmel High School's Street Scenes. The special shows will be performed in the auditorium, Sunday, Feb. 4 at 1:30 p.m. Admission is free.

The quartet known as

"The Chicago Gear & Transmission Co." will provide memorable songs of the past and present. In addition, the energetic Carmel students' performance will take you to three different periods of music, including a western scene with cowboys and cowgirls. Enjoy over an hour of great entertainment in Carmel High School auditorium. Entrance available for the handicapped.

Carmel is located on Rte. 176 on the east side of Mundelein. For further information call (708)566-3000 or (708)367-1684.
